Concern On Red Atrocities

UN Approves US Call for Stiff Condemnation Of Such Actions

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (AP)—The U. N. General Assembly today expressed its "grave concern" at Red atrocities in Korea and approved an American call for stiff condemnation of such actions.

Over bitter Soviet opposition, the 60-nation Assembly approved a Western-sponsored resolution of condemnation by a vote of 42 to 5 with 10 abstentions.

The balloting followed three days of vitriolic debate in which Henry Cabot Lodge Jr. of the United States accused the North Koreans and Chinese Communists of killing nearly 38,000 U. N. soldiers and civilians in Korea as a part of high Kremlin policy.

The five negative votes were cast by the Soviet bloc. The 10 abstentions were mostly by Asian and Arab nations.

According to terms of the resolution, sponsored by the U. S., Britain, France, Turkey and Australia, the Assembly specifically:

"1. Expresses its grave concern at reports and information that North Korean and Chinese Communist forces have, in a large number of instances, employed inhuman practices against the heroic soldiers of forces under the United Nations command in Korea and against the civilian population in Korea.

"2. Condemns the commission by any governments or authorities of murder, mutilation, torture, and other atrocious acts against captured military personnel or civilian populations, as a violation of rules of international law and basic standards of conduct and morality and as affronting human rights and the dignity and worth of the human person."

Russia's Andrei Vishinsky said he and his allies voted against the resolution because it was "libelous, spurious and hypocritical."

India already had announced she would not vote on the resolution, explaining this was because of her position as head of the Neutral Nations Repatriation Commission.

Before the vote, a heated debate had included stinging denunciation of Red atrocities by a parade of Western nations and angry counter thrusts from the Soviet bloc. The latter sought to prove that American and South Korean troops were the real atrocity perpetrators.

The final result was a verbal duel between Chief U.S. Delegate Henry Cabot Lodge Jr. and Russia's Andrei Vishinsky.

At the peak of the debate, Lodge charged that North Korea's military commander, Gen. Nam Il, masterminded the bloody Koje prison riots during the armistice negotiations at Panmunjom. Lodge also challenged Russia to let an International Red Cross committee make an unfettered check of the U.S.-alleged Red atrocities in Korea.

In quick retort, Vishinsky angrily denounced the Nam Il charge as "absurd" and unsupported by facts. The Russian declared the American challenge for a Red Cross probe was "an 11th-hour approach, obviously of a demagogic nature."

'Baby Eagle' Will Arrive Early Friday

C. F. Longstreth, special representative of the public relations department of the Missouri Pacific, is in Sedalia and will have charge of the "Baby Eagle," which will be unloaded for the Christmas parade at 1 p. m. Friday at the Missouri Pacific depot.

It will then be taken, by the way of Broadway, Barrett and Sixteenth, to 16th and Prospect, where it will be placed on display until time for the parade. Because the "Baby Eagle" is 75 feet long it cannot safely turn at Main and Ohio and so it will continue on down Ohio to the loading point at the depot where it will remain until after the parade.

The big lowboy from the Sedalia Air Force Base is at the armory to be decorated. It has a 40-foot bed.

Flashlight cameras will probably be flashing like the lightning of a summer storm Friday night with everybody who has a camera wanting to get pictures of the parade.

Spring Returns

It is like spring today, after an "April shower". One could hardly realize it was really December.

The temperature at 7 a. m. was '50; 58 at 1 p. m., and 62 at 2 p. m. Rainfall Wednesday and early Thursday total .56 inch.

Colder and windy tonight and tomorrow. Low tonight near 40; high Friday in the 40s.

One year ago today here high 40, low 31. Two years ago high 63, low '3.

Stage at Lake of the Ozarks: 45.6, steady.

Freight Car Ride to Freedom---

Czech Grandfather Tells How Family Shuttled In Lumber Pile

VIENNA, Austria (AP)—A Czech grandfather told today how he and four of his family shuttled back and forth three times through the Iron Curtain, hidden under a pile of lumber on a freight car, before they finally reached freedom.

At one time the piteous cries of his two grandchildren, suffering from hunger and thirst in an ordeal that stretched over eight days, drove Bedrich Cech, 52, to the point of surrender. All of them suffered, including his pregnant daughter-in-law.

But a monumental bluff by Cech and his son succeeded and the family finally reached a haven in the U.S. occupation zone of Austria.

Cech said he and his family feared arrest in their Communist homeland because his daughter, Vlasta, is married to a former American soldier, Ronald K. Brown. She lives with him near Earlham, Iowa, (R.F.D. 4).

Cech told a news conference in Linz that starvation, thirst and sickness nearly wrecked the escape of the party, which included his son, Marion, 30; his pregnant daughter-in-law Drahomira, 24, and their two children, Ladislav, 4, and Vlasta, 2.

The Trieste-bound train on which they were huddled crossed and recrossed the Iron Curtain three times before they finally reached the safety of the American zone of Austria last Thursday. Customs inspectors overlooked the refugees hidden under the load of wood.

Cech gave these details of the amazing escape plan:

On Nov. 19 Marion ordered an open freight car from the sawmill to be loaded in such a way that a six-foot square space would be left under the lumber. The family climbed in. The children were given sedatives. The family took two suitcases with family heirlooms, an oxygen tank, rolls of tarpaper, tools, food, water and a strong liquor.

Unsuspecting workers loaded a final truckload of lumber on top of the hiding place. The two men pasted tarpaper around the compartment to keep their scent from border police dogs. They built two devices for pulling in air and taking it out.

They reached the border on Nov. 21. They held their breath while customs inspector circled the freight car with dogs. Two hours later they reached the Soviet zone of Austria.

"We were overjoyed," said Cech. "There was no need to conserve our food. We ate and drank heartily to celebrate. The freight car waited for 12 hours then suddenly began going in the wrong direction. We were horrified. We went right back into Czechoslovakia."

They spent three days in the car at the border town of Horni Dvoriste. Their food and water was gone. The children were fed a few lumps of sugar moistened with plum brandy, the only liquid left.

Cech was driven to desperation by the cries of the children, "Grandpa, water, water, please give us water." He decided to give up, and the family, almost too weak to stand, emerged from the den in the freight car.

On the morning of Nov. 25 the men decided on a bold gamble. They put their tools in a kit and marched to the station master. Marion said they had been sent to repair the now loose load on the car because it was needed urgently in Trieste. The station master accepted the story.

The men got soup for the children, coffee, and beer in a nearby town, fixed the loose load and asked that the car be put on a train going south. They returned secretly to the hiding place.

Early the next morning they started to move toward Austria.

Second Group of ROK PWs Turn Down Allies

UN Persuaders Draw Second Blank In Two Days As 30 South Koreans Remain Reds

PANMUNJOM (AP) — A second group of 30 South Koreans today unanimously chose life under the Communists, giving Allied persuaders a total blank for two days of efforts to woo home balky war prisoners.

There was no violence, but many prisoners were more talkative than the 30 who yesterday listened passively to ROK explainers, then chose communism.

The U. N. Command said 30 more South Koreans of 328 who refused repatriation will be interviewed tomorrow.

There was no indication when 22 Americans and 1 Briton who stayed with the Communists will be called.

Negotiators working on plans for a Korean peace conference, meanwhile, met for 3½ hours and apparently made no progress.

U. S. envoy Arthur H. Dean warned the Reds that their insistence on seating Russia as neutral might stall the conference "indefinitely and perhaps forever."

The Communists rejected Dean's plan for setting up a peace conference but did not mention specifically his proposal that Russia attend as a third party with full voting rights rather than as a Communist belligerent or a neutral.

Some South Korean prisoners interviewed Thursday marched into the explanation tents singing Communist songs and chanting slogans.

But the interviews went so smoothly that a young Polish major serving as a repatriation commission observer began nodding and finally went to sleep. He awoke with a start when the session ended.

There was one dramatic scene when a young prisoner walked into the tent and recognized an ROK explainer as a friend from a South Korean army unit.

Both fought in the 2nd Battallion of the U. S. 5th Regimental Combat Team, then with the 24th division.

The ROK major and the prisoner talked together for two hours, much of the time discussing the prisoner's family in South Korea.

Finally the POW said he had nothing against the major personally, but that he could "not return to South Korea as long as President Syngman Rhee remains in power."

The two shook hands and the prisoner walked out the door designated for those who choose to remain with the Communists.

One interview captive walked out the other door, apparently choosing to go home. But after walking 200 yards with South Korean guards he appeared to discover his error and darted back to the explanation tent.

ROK intelligence officers said he apparently walked out the repatriation door in a staged attempt to embarrass Allied persuaders.

For the most part the prisoners listened quitely to promises of promotions, back pay, reunions with families and pardons for crimes committed in North Korea. But many tried to wind up the interview with political speeches which Indian tent chairmen cut off quickly.

Other prisoners asked question after question or took voluminous notes as the ROK officers talked.

One POW objected to the record voices of his family.

As each interview was completed the prisoner was led away to a separate compound where they are segregated from those not yet interviewed.

Communist explanations to Chinese and North Koreans remained stalled. There have been no sessions for more than two weeks because of Red insistence on calling out prisoners from a compound more than once.

The prisoners refused to come out except on one day and the Indian command will not force them to attend explanations.

Gouzenko Wants Security Given For Spy-Traitors

ST. LOUIS (AP)—The man who exposed a Soviet espionage ring in Canada said today in a copyrighted interview published by the Post-Dispatch that his plan for rewarding Communist spies who desert to the West is "the only way to stop Communist spies."

Igor Gouzenko, former Russian embassy code clerk now hiding under an assumed name in Canada, said "all I want to do is to make it easier for others than it was for me."

"Then we will get more Soviet espionage agents to come over," Gouzenko said. "What was maybe unprecedented in my case, I want to make precedented.

"I want company."

Gouzenko's plan, briefly, is to pass new laws in the United States and Canada to offer such persons deserting to the West automatic and quick citizenship, lifelong protection, a life annuity, and public honors.

He would demand in return that the persons rewarded perform a real service by bringing with them "documentary evidence which can stand scrupulous investigation, leading to disclosure of Communist spy activity."

India Won't Keep Troops Indefinitely On Job In Korea

NEW DELHI, India (AP)—Prime Minister Nehru told a questioner in parliament today the Indian government "has no intention of keeping our forces in Korea indefinitely."

Nehru said the question of convening a Korean political conference "as early as possible" might be raised in the U. N. Assembly "if this is considered necessary."

He added it was possible it would be raised in the remaining week of the present session "but there is a chance an emergency session might be held later in any event."

The United States and her U.N. allies in Korea have been reported anxious to prevent further Assembly debate on Korea now on grounds it might interfere with the attempts at Panmunjom by U. S. Envoy Arthur Dean to arrange a political conference.

B47s May Make Long Non-Stop Flight

MARCH AIR FORCE BASE, Calif., (AP)—One element of a flight of 45 B47 jet bombers and 30 KC97 aerial refueling tankers may make a 5000-mile flight from March Air Force Base to Hayford, Eng., nonstop, the Air Force announced today.

First elements of the flight of the 22nd Bomber Group leave this afternoon and others will depart tomorrow and Saturday on a three-month mobility training exercise.

The only planned stop enroute will be at Goose Bay, Labrador, and Harmon Air Force Base, Newfoundland.

More than 1,000 men are involved in the exercise.

Laniel Seeking Pledges

At Big 3 Meeting He Wants Promise Of Aid In Europe From US, Britain

TUCKER'S TOWN, Bermuda (AP)—France's Premier Joseph Laniel arrived today for the Bermuda Big Three conference, reportedly determined to press for new long term pledges of support in Europe from Britain and the United States.

Prime Minister Churchill and Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden were on hand at Kindley Field to meet Laniel, his Foreign Minister Georges Bidault, and a team of 17 experts from the French foreign office. President Eisenhower will arrive tomorrow for the five days of conferences which open that afternoon.

Laniel was reported also ready to tell Britain and the United States that France is prepared to examine any peace offers made officially by Ho Chi Minh, the Moscow-educated general who has been directing the long war in Indochina against the French.

To the Americans, the major task of the conference is to prod the balky French National Assembly into ratifying the European Defense Community Pact. It provides for a unified West European army including troops from France's long-time enemy Germany.

Laniel can promise nothing because his government must resign Jan. 17, a month after France's new President is elected. But he reportedly was bringing a raft of conditions which French sources say must be met before there is any chance for Assembly approval of German rearmament.

These include:

1. British-American agreement to pressure the West Germans into agreeing that the Saar Basin, rich in coal and steel, will remain politically autonomous but linked economically to France. It was German before World War II and the Germans want it back.

2. British and American assurances that they won't pull their troops off the continent and leave the French to face rearmed Germans alone.

3. Continued American help against the Communist-led rebels in Indochina, or Allied diplomatic support for a negotiated settlement with Ho Chi Minh's forces.

4. British-American agreement to Moscow's proposal for a Big Four foreign ministers meeting.

Of these, only the Saar seems a major stumbling block.

Resurgent West Germany so far has given no sign of conceding anything on that question.

Women's Division Of United Fund Nears Goal Set at $4,500

The Women's Division in the United Fund Drive, working in the residential section, has $4,200 of its $4,500 goal.

Mrs. Ike L. Warren, chairman, is anxious that the division be 100 per cent and that women contribute what they can from their household budgets. Anyone who will contribute to help reach the remaining $300 is asked to call the Chamber of Commerce and a worker will pick it up, or it may be mailed to the Chamber of Commerce office.

Concordia Man Has 10 Top Polled Shorthorns At International Show

CHICAGO (AP)—Lewis W. Thieman of Concordia, Mo., exhibited the best 10 head of Polled Shorthorns in judging at the International Livestock Exposition yesterday.

Thieman was elected vice president of the American Shorthorn Breeders Association, W. L. Lyon Brown of Louisville, Ky., was named president.

Japanese PWs of Reds Say Russia Builds Underwater Tunnels

TOKYO (AP) — Japanese war prisoners repatriated from Siberian prison camps were quoted by Kyodo News Service today as saying Russia is constructing two underwater links between Sakhalin and Siberia with slave labor.

The straits are about 10 miles across at the narrowest point.

The projects are scheduled for completion by 1955.

One link was said to be an underwater oil pipeline.

The other—a fantastic project if true—was said to be a 60 mile under sea tunnel linking Aleksandrovsk at the waist of Sakhalin and a Siberian base called Sovgavani. It does not show on available maps.

Kyodo said the repatriates reported no Asians were used for tunnel construction work at Aleksandrovsk — only white persons.

Mayor Kemp Heads Muni Association

NEW ORLEANS (AP) —Mayor William E. Kemp of Kansas City, Mo. is the new president of the American Municipal Association.

Mr. Kemp is a native Pettis Countian, born at La Monte.

Mayor Kemp received the honor at the 30th anniversary convention of the association in New Orleans yesterday.

Parade Starts at 7 o'Clock---

Santa's Suit Pressed, Ready For His 'Debut' Friday Nite

There are four bright red suits hanging in Santa Claus' closet, but the prettiest one, the one that really looks like red velvet, has been cleaned and pressed for his visit to Sedalia Friday night. He'll ride on a float in the big Christmas parade, which he wants to start promptly at 7 o'clock.

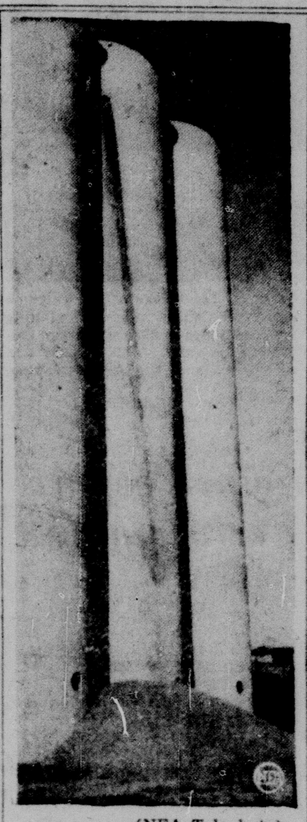

The parade will be led by two beautiful horses, followed by the Smith-Cotton High School band. Then will come the cars with the city and county officials and Chamber of Commerce officers.

The rest of the parade is a secret, just like how Santa is going to arrive is a secret, but there will be plenty of bands, lots and lots of floats, decorated cars and other vehicles, carol singers which will include the Sedalia Men's Choral Club, square dancers, and so many other things that it is certainly going to be three miles long just as it was planned.

The marshals are asked to be at 16th and Grand before 6 o'clock because the units will start gathering there for their places in the parade. Each marshal will have a cane or a yardstick so that he may be identified as a marshal if he is needed by participants in the parade for anything. A flashlight and whistle will also be helpful.

All units of any kind that have not registered are asked to do so calling Guy Peabody as soon as possible.

No cars will be permitted to park or drive on 16th west from Ohio to Barrett from 6 to 7 o'clock and none along the route of the parade, so that there will be no congestion of traffic to interfere with the parade. The public is asked to cooperate.

OVERFLOWING ELEVATOR —Maize pours to the ground at a Liberal, Kansas, grain elevator after the owner punched holes 100 feet up as emergency measure to store grain on the ground after 16 of the 110-foot tubes were filled with 486,000 bushels. The out shipments are not keeping up with grain being received from farmers engaged in a late but heavy harvest. It's expected that 100,000 bushels soon will be stored in this fashion by the elevators.

Say Economic Outlook Good For 5 States

Missouri Included In Shippers' Board As Reported Today

JOPLIN, Mo. (AP) — The general economic outlook for the five-state area embracing Missouri, Kansas, Oklahoma, Arkansas and part of Illinois "never looked better" the Trans-Missouri - Kansas Shippers' Board reported today.

But at the same time, the board said in its forecast, rail carloadings are due for a moderate decline during the first quarter of 1954, as compared with record highs set during the first quarter of this year. The board said it expected a 4.5 per cent decrease in the movement of 31 basic commodity groups, plus two others, which are heavy movers in the area.

In a report supplementing the board's forecast, W. E. Reynolds, president of the First National Bank here, said the Tri-state area of Missouri-Kansas-Arkansas had a generally bright economic outlook before it. He attributed it to an expanding economy throughout the Southwest and diversification of agriculture and industry.

"The area is no longer primarily dependant upon any one industry, due to an increasing variety of producers entering the territory and balanced farming," he said.

Looking at the potential export and storage situation, W. R. Scott, Kansas City, chairman of the grain committee, predicted a decrease of 8.4 per cent in the carloadings of grain.

"The storage situation," he said, "is extremely tight, with markets in the area filled almost to capacity, thereby curtailing a reallocation of stock positions."

One of the largest decreases of carloadings, 34.8 per cent, is anticipated in motor cars, due in part, the board said, to increased truck-away operations. Among the increases expected are 18.1 on chemicals and explosives and 14.8 on ores and concentrates.

More than 300 business and railroad representatives attended the meeting, which closed at noon today with a luncheon.

HAVANA, Cuba (AP)—Police today said a 24-year-old Cuban sailor left his guard post here last night, went home and killed his wife, mother-in-law, two-year-old stepson and a woman neighbor with repeated bursts from a submachine gun.

The officers could give no immediate explanation for the sailor's action. They identified him as Jesus Diaz Ramos and said he offered no resistance when arrested.

Breaks Fast She Says Continued 101 Days

JOHANNESBURG, South Africa (AP)—Mrs. Cornelia Foster, a 61-year-old Johannesburg housewife, sipped a cup of tea yesterday afternoon, breaking a fast which she claimed lasted 101 days. She lost 50 pounds and is down to 238. Her only daily nourishment, she said, was six pints of water and soda water. She claimed a record, saying the previous longest fast was by Willi Schmidt of Essen, Germany, who went without food for 80 days.

McCarthy Sticks To His Criticism Of Administration

Calls Upon Americans to Make Views Known To President Ike; Again States He Feels Commies In Government Is Election Issue

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. McCarthy (R-Wis) stuck by his criticism of administration foreign policy today and called on Americans who feel as he does about "blood trade" with Red China to make their views known to President Eisenhower.

He said he thinks Eisenhower "is an honorable man" and "will follow the will of the American people if that will is known to him."

And, in further disagreement with the President, McCarthy declared that Communists in government will be an issue in next year's elections and "the most important political issue for many years to come."

McCarthy urged too in a statement that Secretary of State Dulles "reappraise our whole policy" toward allies dealing with Communist China.

But he declared at the same time that any suggestion he was challenging Eisenhower's leadership of the Republican Party "is both ridiculous and untrue." He attributed this idea to "our political enemies."

McCarthy replied in a prepared statement to the blasts delivered at him in the last two days by Eisenhower and Dulles. Then, reading it for TV and newsreel cameramen, he added an appeal for Americans who agree with him to write or wire their views to Eisenhower.

There was no immediate comment from the White House or State Department on McCarthy's fresh pronouncements.

Leonard W. Hall, Republican national chairman, had breakfast with the President and, when leaving the White House, told reporters that GOP congressional and state leaders with whom he has talked are "completely in accord" with Eisenhower in the differences with McCarthy and "are very happy" with the President's statements on the matter.

In a prepared statement, McCarthy said "I will continue to give my utmost support to the Republican Party now and in the future" but he emphasized:

"This does not mean that I will refrain from criticizing my party when I think it is making mistakes."

He praised both Eisenhower and Secretary of State Dulles in the statement, but said he still thinks this country should refuse dollar aid to any allied nation "shipping any goods to Communist China so long as a single American remained in a Communist blood-stained dungeon."

"On this matter Secretary Dulles and I are in complete disagreement," McCarthy said.

"In a republic such as ours there must be room for honest difference of opinion. I respect the honesty and sincerity of purpose of Secretary Dulles."

However, I have such deep convictions on this subject that I shall continue to discuss the matter at every opportunity and I urge Secretary Dulles to reappraise our whole policy in this regard.

"It is my hope that such a reappraisal may result in a change of policy in this respect."

McCarthy's statement was a reply to the one-two punch thrown at him by Eisenhower and Dulles as a result of McCarthy's radio-TV speech last week criticizing administration foreign policy.

Dulles hit at McCarthy's views Tuesday as striking at the very heart of United States foreign policy. Yesterday, President Eisenhower said he was in full accord with Dulles' statements.

Eisenhower also took issue with the Wisconsin senator's declaration that the communists in government issue will be a major one in next year's congressional election.

The President appeared, however, to have left the door open for full-blast continuation of congressional hunts for spies and subversives during the Truman administration.

The President said that by election time he expects that his administration's new security measures will have put an end to public fear of Communism in government.

McCarthy, in his statement, repeated that Communists in government will be an issue. In fact, he declared, it will be "the most important political issue for many years to come."

McCarthy said he believes he had spent about as much time as anyone campaigning for Eisenhower in the 1952 election.

"I would do the same again as I have a great deal of admiration for the President and think he has an excellent record for the time he has been in office," McCarthy said.

"However, errors by Democrats or Republicans are equally bad. One of the reasons that the Democrats were removed from office was their refusal to recognize their own errors. And I feel that if we Republicans do likewise it may be fatal to our great political party and to our country."

Nine Perish In Tornadoes In Louisiana

20 Others Hurt In Central Part Of State Today

ALEXANDRIA, La. (AP)—A tornado hopscotched across Central Louisiana early today, killing at least nine persons and injuring more than 20 others.

Seven died in the storm's fury at the rural community of Leander, 20 miles southwest of Alexandria.

Two infants were killed when the tornado struck Tullos, 40 miles north of Alexandria.

Homes ripped into firewood marked the tornado's path.

The storm cut off power temporarily in the Alexandria area and hampered communications.

The LaSalle Parish sheriff's office at Jena said Sherry Lee Prestridge, the three-week-old daughter of Davis Prestridge, and Johnny Pendarvis, 11-month-old son of John Pendarvis, were killed at Tullos. Fifteen persons were reported injured there.

The LaSalle officials said at least 20 houses were destroyed or damaged at Tullos.

At the Paradise community, 10 miles north of here, four highway employes sleeping in a trailer were carried on a wild 100-yard ride by the raging winds. The extent of their injuries was not known.

Some property damage was reported at Paradise.

The twister narrowly missed the Veterans Administration hospital five miles north of Alexandria, but no one was injured and no property damage was reported there or in the city.

The twister also struck at Hineston and Dry Prong in Rapides Parish and at other communities.

Believe Gun Found Used In Murder

ST. LOUIS (AP) — St. Louis police, springing a trap set by California authorities to arrest a man sought in the slaying of a Los Angeles insurance adjuster, believe they have found the gun used in the apparent motiveless killing.

Police arrested Anthony J. Zilbauer, 53, of Los Angeles yesterday. Chief of Detectives James Chapman identified Zilbauer as a man known as Anthony Barr by Los Angeles police and sought in the Nov. 21 slaying of Andrew J. Kmiec.

A .38 caliber revolver found in Zilbauer's car is believed to have been used in the slaying, police said.

Zilbauer, booked suspected of being a fugitive from California, is being held for California authorities.

Zilbauer, admitted he used both names but denied any knowledge of the slaying of the 32-year-old Kmiec, Chapman said.

Speeds to Death

ATLANTA (AP)—Three hours after being given a ticket for speeding, an Atlanta man was killed yesterday when his car, traveling at a speed estimated by police at 75 miles an hour, crashed into a utility pole. The victim was Grover C. Forts, a Negro.

Grand Champion Steer Sells for $20 Record

CHICAGO (AP) — "Lone Star", grand champion of the 54th International Livestock Exposition, sold at auction today at a record $20 a pound.

The steer, owned and shown by Miss Sue White, 18-year-old 4-H Club girl from Big Spring, Tex., was bought by Albert Pick, president of the American Hotel Assn. who also bought the previous record high-price steer in 1950.

Both "Lone Star" and "Big Spring Special," the 1950 grand champion, were Herefords from Howard County, Tex.

The 1953 grand champion weighs about 1,015 pounds but its exact weight will not be known until it reaches the scale house. The steer is expected to bring Miss White better than $20,000.

Miss White hoped to resume her college education with the money realized from the sale of her purple ribbon winner.

High 'Brass' Asks Military Pay Boosts

WASHINGTON (AP) — A group of generals and admirals called today for a military pay boost and other actions to halt what they termed an alarming deterioration in the career military service.

"Military service has lost much of its attractiveness as a career," said a study committee named by Secretary of Defense Wilson last spring at the direction of President Eisenhower.

"Unless the present trend of career personnel leaving the service can be reversed, most serious consequences to the national defense effort will result."

Asst. Secretary of Defense John Hannah, in making public the report of the five-man committee, said it would receive careful attention from the military services, the Defense Department and the Joint Chiefs of Staff.

Among its conclusions and recommendations, the committee said:

1. There is a "positive danger" that budget cutting considerations might be permitted to "transcend" the attainment of combat effectiveness which "must be achieved at whatever cost."

2. The Defense Department should press for a cost-of-living increase in military pay scales as a major means of holding good men in competition with private industry—of about 8 per cent.

3. Service leaders must accept blame for yielding to popular and "political pressure" in adopting after World War II policies which served to dominish the distinction between ranks and to force officers and enlisted men into a "common social pattern."

4. There should be prompt restoration of fringe benefits and an end to what the report called whittling away of extras which military men have traditionally considered to be part of their income.

Like to See Firemen Get Plenty of Work

BALTIMORE (AP)—Alvin Anay, 39, was held for the grand jury today on charges of turning in false fire alarms.

"I don't like to see firemen sitting around," the arresting policeman testified Anay explained. "If they don't get exercise they get stale."

Anay is unemployed.

Sacred Heart High News---

Three Vocal Groups Prepare For Christmas Performance

By Barbara Lamy

The Christmas spirit is gaily dancing through the halls of Sacred Heart to the strains of delightful Christmas music. Sister Mary Everildis has chosen the senior quartet, the junior trio and the double quartet and has been coaching them.

Slections to be sung by these musical groups are: the senior quartet — Beverly Couhig, Lorraine Johnson, Alphonsine Miles and Josephine White, "Mother of Christ"; the junior trio—Nancy Esser, Betty Hula and Patty Mulcahey, "Winter Wonderland" by Felix Bernard; and the double quartet—Eulalia Anton, Jim Buckley, Bill Couhig, Dorothy Pfeiffer, Bob Rialti, Carolyn Steffen, David Wasson and Martha Weimholt—"I'm Dreaming of a White Christmas" by Irving Berlin and "I Heard the Bells on Christmas Day' by John Baptist Calkin.

Two educational movies entertained the girls' first aid classes Tuesday and Wednesday. The pictures, "Bathing Time for Baby" and "Help Wanted," demonstrated the procedure to follow in child care and the precautions and principles of first aid. The first aid instructor is Sister Mary Benita. Jim Dick operated the movie projector.

Barbara Gibson Not Coming for Dec. 11 Concert In Sedalia

Barbara Gibson, soprano, will not be presented on the Community Concert program on Thursday, Dec. 11, as previously scheduled because of an injury she received, causing her to cancel all engagements for the month of December. There will be no program on Thursday night, Dec. 11.

Miss Gibson will, instead, come to Sedalia to appear on the Community Concert program on Jan. 7.

Is Asked to Require Recording Speedometer

DENVER (AP)—Gov. Dan Thornton has been asked to have the Colorado Legislature consider next January a proposal that all automobile owners be required to install recording speedometers. These would make a permanent record of the speeds traveled.

Periodic inspections would be made by the state. If the speedometers showed any speed in excess of the legal limit, the motorists would be fined.

Cpl. Bruehl Returns From Duty In France

ORLEANS, France—Army Cpl. Albert W. Bruehl, whose wife, Gilda Mae, lives at 109 South Gentry, is enroute to the states after serving in France with the European Communications Zone.

Missourian Tells Of Red Atrocities In Prison Camp

WASHINGTON (AP)—Master Sgt. Carey H. Weinel, of Hickman Mills, Mo., yesterday told a one-man senate investigation committee of atrocities inflicted upon him and other American and Korean troops by the Communists in 1950.

Sgt. Weinel, 37, was the only survivor among 60 Americans and 40 Korean prisoners of war who were placed in a ditch and then fired upon by their captors.

The sargeant told Sen. Potter (R-Mich) that "not a man begged for mercy and that "not a man cracked up."

Weinel said he was buried alive with other atrocity victims at Taejon late in September, 1950. He said the dirt was lighthowever, and that he was able to breathe. He remained "dead" for seven or eight hours until it was dark. He then worked his head and a foot free and was assisted in rescue operations by a South Korean.

The sargeant told of an 80-100 mile forced march from the Pusan perimeter in 1950, after his capture, when Communist guards would drop back with wounded stragglers "and there would be a couple of shots."

Weinel was among the first Kansas Citians drafted in 1941. He served throughout World War II in the Pacific campaign with the 7th division, 148th infantry, receiving several decorations.

He re-enlisted in March 1947.

Among western countries, it usually is found that the death rates are lowest among the married and highest for the widowed and divorced, according to the Encyclopedia Britannica.

Seven Texas Towns View Tornado Damage

WASHINGTON-ON-THE-BRAZOS, Tex. (AP) — Seven Texas communities viewed tornado damage today after black funnels dipped with twisting winds into their midst yesterday.

Two persons, members of a Negro family whose house was carried 54 yards by the violent winds, died in a storm near this historic site of the signing in 1836 of Texas' declaration of independence from Mexico.

The other twisters struck near Hearne, Lufkin, Seguin, Tanglewood, Huntsville and Lance City in the southeast portion of central Texas.

Heavy rain, vivid lightning displays and high winds accompanied a cold front that was near Houston at 5 a. m. (cst) today. The tornadoes formed ahead of the front. At least 13 persons were injured in the twisters, damage was not heavy.

Miss Theresa Cook Exchanges Vows With W. Ripley

Miss Theresa Cook, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George A. Cook, Smithton, became the bride of Mr. William E. Ripley, son of Mrs. W. W. Fellers, Oklahoma City, Okla., at 7 o'clock Wednesday evening, November 18 at the Lake Creek Methodist Church. Rev. H. B. Fly, Calhoun, assisted by the Rev. J. C. Paschal, performed the double ring ceremony before an altar set with arrangements of fern, ivy, lighted chrysanthemums and lighted tapers.

As the guests were being seated Mrs. Lloyd Monsees played a program of nuptial music. Miss Phyllis Schluesing, violin soloist, played, "Oh Promise Me" and "Ah, Sweet Mystery of Life". Mr. B. Cook sang, "The Lord's Prayer" at the close of the service.

Mr. Hubert Cook and Mr. Gail Demand lighted the candles.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a floor length white taffeta gown with an overskirt of rose point lace. The bodice was scalloped at the neckline and her only jewelry was a gold cross necklace, a gift of the bridegroom. She carried a bouquet of white chrysanthemums.

Miss Violet Hoehns, maid of honor, wore a dress of winter green taffeta patterned after that of the bride's. Her bouquet was of yellow chrysanthemums.

Mrs. Charles Antoine, bridesmaid, wore a similar dress of yellow taffeta and carried bronze chrysanthemums.

Miss Betty Schutte, flower girl wore a lavendar taffeta dress and carried a crocheted basket from which she dropped rose petals.

Dale Montgomery was ringbearer.

Mr. Eldon O'Neil served as best man for Mr. Ripley and Mr. Elwood Schlobohm was groomsmen. Ushering at the wedding were Mr. Joe Hoehns and Mr. Donald Eichholz.

The ceremony was followed by a reception in the church basement.

Mr. and Mrs. Ripley left for Oklahoma City, Okla., following the ceremony. For traveling the bride chose a gray wool dress with navy accessories.

The bride and bridegroom both graduated from Smithton High School and will reside in Smithton. Mrs. Ripley is employed as bookkeeper with the Smithton Bank and Mr. Ripley is a carpenter apprentice working for C. W. Stephenson.

Hearts May Be 'Anxious' Not Serious

By ALTON L. BLAKESLEE
AP Science Reporter

ST. LOUIS (AP)—Worried about your heart?

There's a good chance you just have "anxious heart," with nothing actually wrong despite pains or other signs.

This anxiety heart disease was described today to the American Medical Assn. by Dr. Jackson A. Smith, department of psychiatry and neurology, Baylor University College of Medicine, Houston, Tex.

Some Civil War soldiers had it—it was then called "irritable heart." It was thought to be due to too much excitement.

Lots of World War I soldiers had it. For many it cleared up after the armistice.

Fear and anxiety cause it, in civilians as well as soldiers. The person focuses attention on his heart, Dr. Smith said. Sometimes it's created or helped along when during a heart examination the doctor says or does something making the patient believe his heart is really physically in trouble.

In anxious heart, a person becomes aware of his own heart beat or pulses in his head or throat, Dr. Smith said. His heart may skid or seem to skip beats, and he fears his heart has stopped or will stop. Often he complains of being breathless and fatigued.

The personality type likely to have anxiety heart is one who is tense, easily embarrassed, sensitive to opinions, indecisive, overly-conscientious, and trying to live by standards which are realistically too high, the physician said.

One expert finds that more than half the people who [illegible] to see heart specialists have anxiety heart disease, he added.

The treatment is to assure a person that there's nothing wrong with his heart, and then not to mention his so-called heart disease again, Dr. Smith said. The patient should be encouraged to be as active physically as his age permits. He should be told his trouble comes from tension, and tension these days isn't rare and isn't disabling. Then the cause of the anxiety—whether in his job, marriage, or other sources—can be sought out and made understood.

Bake a loaf of nut bread; slice it thin and make cream cheese sandwiches with it. Serve them with a fresh fruit salad for a delectable lunch.

THE WAR IN INDOCHINA—French-Vietnam infantry and tanks slog along through muddy road during offensive against strongholds of Communist-led Vietminh in the Red river delta of Indochina. The offensive was named "Operation Mouette (Sea gull)."

Collector's Items Increase In Value For Missourians

A catalog sent to the State Historical Society this week from one of America's leading book dealers reveals that Missouri citizens have struck another bargain in rare book collecting. An old book now listed at $375 had been bought 30 years ago for $35, and it is one of many such prizes owned by Missourians through their State Historical Society.

According to Floyd C. Shoemaker, Society secretary, one result of such foresighted purchases is the unusual fact that the property assets of the Society today exceded the total amount of state appropriations given to the Society through the years.

The $375 book is Reminiscences of Early Life in Illinois by a Mrs. Tillson, who came to the frontier with her husband in 1822. It is valued by collectors as one of the personal narratives of early day midwestern experiences. Only nine copies are known to exist.

The copy now owned by the Society was purchased 30 years ago by Dr. J. Christion Bay of Chicago and is one of the 4050 items in the Society's rare Bay Collection of Middle Western Americana. Because of his interest in Missouri and its history, Dr. Bay sold his nationally known collection to the Society at its original cost.

Bob Thomas In Hollywood—

Gene Autry Thinks Westerns Will Stage Major Comeback

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Nancy Thomas, who is blonde, independent and 5 years old, was supposed to write this story about Gene Autry.

But she is too busy working over her jumbo Western coloring book, so her leg man will have to carry on.

Nancy, you see, just had her tonsils taken out, an awful experience for young or old. Since she came through so admirably—her only real indignation was over getting a shot where she sat down—she deserved a reward. That was tagging along on, or conducting, as it turned out, an interview with one of her TV heroes, Gene Autry.

Gene was absent when we arrived at his large manse on the edge of the San Fernando Valley. We were ushered into the Autry den, where Nancy examined the cowboy relics.

Gene arrived and came in with a big hello for Nancy. "He looks just the way he does on TV," she observed.

He showed her around the place and explained a glass-enclosed tableau of wood-carved cowboy figures: "Now that's the man riding the bucking bronco and that's the owner of the horse and—"

"Where's the villain?" TV-wise Nancy wanted to know.

She admired his red and green cowboy boots and he offered to show her more. So we went upstairs and he displayed a closet full of boots, all kinds and colors. He also showed us enough shirts to clothe a king-size rodeo.

"How old is champion?" asked Nancy, moving on to other matters.

"Why, he's around 15, honey," Gene replied. "Gettin' pretty old for a horse."

Downstairs, Nancy ordered a cola and sipped on it while Gene and I exchanged man-talk. I wanted to know what was happening to the program Western. That old movie fixture appears to be dying out; Rex Allen is the only cowpoke making a series for theaters now. Gene discontinued them recently, joining Roy Rogers, Johnny Mack Brown, Charles Starrett, Bill Elliott and other stalwarts of the Saturday matinee.

"I have four unreleased pictures under my old Columbia deal," Gene explained. "That's enough to last me until next May. Then I'll decide whether I'll go ahead and make some more.

"The program Western has been hard hit. You see, we used to have the weekend trade to ourselves. But then the big-name stars moved in. There was Jimmy Stewart with 'Bend of the River' and others, and Gary Cooper with 'High Noon,' and Gregory Peck. And John Wayne makes Westerns every once in a while, and Randolph Scott makes two or three a year, and Joel McCrea.

"These pictures naturally cut into our trade. But I think the program Western will come back. Westerns have taken a beating before—I remember it happened just after sound came in. The thing is that you'll have to keep your costs down, because the market is smaller."

Gene added that he was taking a rare rest until Jan. 6, when he starts a musical tour in Duluth, Minn. When we finished talking, he escorted us to the car. He told Nancy that he ate mashed potatoes after he had his tonsils out.

As we drove off, she remarked: "I eat ice cream." Just like a woman, she had the last word.

After the man left, Castillo discovered he had paid $15 for a piece of glass.

PUMPS LIFE FOR DAUGHTER—Bernadine Pollock, 14, background, is still alive after 14 months in a coma, thanks to the homemade suction pump exhibited by her father, Cecil Pollock, foreground. The pump, fashioned from a refrigerator compressor and washing machine motor to save the cost of a professional model, is turned on every half hour to clear mucus from the child's throat, and has been in operation for 11 months. Bernadine, who entered a state of coma in August, 1952, following operation for an abscess caused by a mastoid infection, may regain consciousness at any time, say doctors who give her a 50-50 chance to live.

Knob Noster Student Council Is Headed By Sammy Harfield

KNOB NOSTER — Knob Noster student council members for the year are: Sammy Harfield, Doris Bailey, Jimmie Turner, Mae Belle Roberts, Mary Jo Chick, Dean Shafer, Mary Beard, Bill Siegfried and Charles Grandestaff and Mrs. Andys Duvall.

Officers are: Sammy Harfield, president; Bill Siegfried, vice president; Mae Belle Roberts, secretary and Mary Beard, reporter.

The council has taken the names of all the girls who wish to play basket ball or volley ball and are making up teams to play during the noon hour. These tournaments will start in a week or so. The seventh and eighth grades will also have a team.

The student council has also discussed putting up "No Parking" signs in front of the school. The signs are to be put up so that the school buses can load and unload in safety.

Publishers Turn Down Strikers' Plan

NEW YORK (AP)—Publishers have turned down a photoengravers union proposal cutting demands about half, a federal mediator announced, and the city's newspaper strike today went into its sixth day.

Prior to the newspapers' action, a union membership meeting had rejected a proposal by the publishers for arbitration of four deadlocked issues, including wages and hours.

Negotiations were recessed shortly before midnight. They will be resumed late today.

"No progress was made tonight," Federal Mediator Frank H. Brown said.

Brown said representatives of the six struck newspapers turned down a proposal by Local 1 of the AFL International Photoengravers Union for a package increase of $7.50 a week. He added that the newspapers, represented by the Publishers Assn. of New York City made no new proposal.

William Mapel, president of the publishers group, told newsmen that "we've made our offer." By this he meant a package of $3.75, which the publishers had offered before the strike of 400 photoengravers started last Saturday.

The strike has left New Yorkers without a major city newspaper for the first time. A total circulation of almost 5½ million has been cut off.

The Herald Tribune suspended publication Monday night in sympathy with the other publishers. It was not struck because its photoengraving is done by a commercial company.

Lack of newspaper advertising has caused department store Christmas shopping to fall off.

Pay was stopped last night for most of the 20,000-odd employes of the six struck newspapers whose action in honoring the photoengravers' picket lines forced the papers to close.

The Herald Tribune, which has been going through the motions of putting editions together, is continuing regular pay.

Struck papers are the Times, Daily News, Daily Mirror, World-Telegram and The Sun, Journal-American and Post.

They could have continued publication without their photoengravers, who make metal plates for reproduction of pictures and illustrations, but refusal of members of mechanical, craft and editorial-business office unions to cross picket lines forced closing.

The publishers issued a statement last night that nonstriking employes, most of whom belong to unions, were dropped from the payroll until they return to work. The announcement said in part:

"There will be no pay for those for whom there is no work. This is not a notice of termination of employment . . . affecting accrued benefits or other rights, and must not be construed as such. It is only notice of a temporary period during which there is no work to be performed until normal operations are resumed."

Saying the refusal of nonstrikers to cross the photoengravers' picket lines was a violation of other unions' contracts with the newspapers, the statement continued:

"The general action which followed on the part of all the other unions was in every case a violation of an existing contract. It also appears to have resulted from concerted action by all these unions in influencing, persuading or instructing their members not to report for work at all papers concerned."

Denis M. Burke, president of the striking photoengravers union local, said union negotiators had authority to call off the strike without a membership vote if the publishers agreed to the union's $7.50-a-week package proposal.

The union said the $7.50 proposal, scaled down from $15, would be a combination of improvements including increased wages, shorter hours, more holidays and increased welfare benefits.

Electricians Give Big Sum to United Fund Drive Treasury

Local No. 1016, International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers have contributed $430 to the United Fund Drive with still some to come in.

O. W. Wiley, general chairman of the United Fund Drive, stated that he is pleased with the response of this organization to the fund through the union heads and hopes that other unions will do equally as well. The labor unions in Sedalia, Mr. Wiley said, have always made gratifying contributions. There are still quite a number that have not been heard from this year.

Norbert Brosch, local business representative for Local No. 1016 has been instrumental in getting the pledges and money in this organization and reported that there were still more cards to be turned in.

OBITUARIES

Benton Davis Porter

Benton Davis Porter, 92, died at 12:30 a. m. Wednesday at the home of his brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. Isaac Donley, who reside three miles south of Clarksburg.

Fund Boards Meet

A meeting of all the United Fund boards was held Wednesday night in an effort to try to enroll the remainder of the 6,000 employees in Sedalia in the payroll deduction plan.

Extra Cops Protect Line Labor March

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Extra police were ordered today to keep order during a threatened march on Civic Center by Harry Bridges' longshoremen protesting House Un-American Activities Committee hearings at City Hall.

The protest, labeled a stop work meeting by Bridges' own Local 10 of the left-wing International Longshoremens and Warehousemen's Union, could tie up 40 ships. It was called at a meeting attended by fewer than 600 of the local's 5,500 members after several Bridges aides were named as former Communists by a witness before the committee Tuesday.

Rep. Harold Velde (R-Ill) denied ILWU charges that his committee is here to attack it. He stated: "We will continue our hearings against communism and subversion wherever we find it.

Police Chief Michael Gaffey ordered 50 uniformed officers and 30 inspectors to prevent mass entries into City Hall and to keep pickets from blocking entrances. Another 50 policemen were held in reserve.

The committee expected to hear today a friendly witness, described by Rep. Donald L. Jackson (R-Calif) as a "former member of the fourth estate — the press." He was not identified.

Louis Rosser, 47, of Los Angeles, who said he was a disillusioned ex-Red, testified Tuesday these ILWU officers were Communists: Louis Goldblatt, secretary-treasurer and Bridges' No. 1 lieutenant; Charles (Chili) Duarte, president of Local 6; Richard Lyndon, secretary-treasurer of Local 6; Jack Olson, former Local 6 publicity chief; and Paul Heide, Local 6 business agent.

Benson Gives Arguments For SCS Shifting

WASHINGTON (AP)—Secretary of Agriculture Benson goes before a House group today to argue the case for his controversial reorganization of the Soil Conservation Service.

But in advance of his appearance before a Government Operations subcommittee, the political heat generated by his month-old action appeared to be abating.

Walter S. David Jr. of League City, Tex., one of the severest critics of the reorganization, said yesterday he was ready to help make the plan work.

Davis, president of the National Assn. of Soil Conservation Districts, was slated to follow Benson as a witness before the House group. Davis and the association earlier had denounced the changes effected by Benson, particularly abolition of seven regional soil conservation offices.

Chairman Bender (R-Ohio) indicated the committee was standing clear of the dispute until all the arguments are in.

"The purpose of the hearings is to provide a forum for both sides in the controversy," Bender told newsmen. "We want to prepare a record for Congress to consider when it returns in January.

"None of the committee has any preconceived notions, but I feel it is better to get both sides of the record because of the numerous protests which have come to Congress."

Any action by Congress to repeal the organization would have to be by legislation subject to a presidential veto.

Benson put the Agriculture Department reorganization into effect Nov. 2 over the protests of some farmers, conservationists, and members of Congress.

Kiwanians Told Of City C. of C. Work, Benefits

An informative resume of what the Sedalia Chamber of Commerce and its committees have done and are doing for the benefit of the community was made by Chester Brown, secretary-manager of the Chamber, speaking before the Sedalia Kiwanis Club at its meeting in Bothwell Hotel Thursday noon.

The speaker, who was presented by Program Chairman Herbert Seifert, mentioned that 95 per cent of the Kiwanis membership belonged to the Chamber of Commerce and that a predominance of them were on the board of directors and serving as committee chairmen.

Arthur Morgan reported that the board of directors had approved a meeting of the Kiwanis and Lions jointly on Wednesday, Dec. 23, to help fill 3,000 gift bags for the Children's Community Christmas party on Dec. 24.

President-elect L. A. Pharris announced he would have a meeting of the old and new boards and officers and committee chairmen at his home at 7 p.m. Thursday to plan for 1954 activities.

Forecast Doubling Of St. Louis by '00

ST. LOUIS (AP) — The St. Louis' area population will double by the year 2000, an officer of the American Society of Planning Officials predicts.

Dennis O'Harrow, associate director of the organization, told delegates to a St. Louis area planning conference last night that the increase to 3½ million people would cause problems to increase even more rapidly.

To Welfare Group's Meeting

The staff of the local State Division of Welfare will attend a dinner meeting of the Missouri Association of Social Welfare which will be held at Warrensburg tonight.

TWO OF A KIND—A limp candle and a limp nose are the distinguishing features of "La Lamp Philosophique," a surrealistic painting by Rene Magritte of Belgium. It's on exhibition at the Lefevre Gallery in London, England.

Among the local heirs are: four daughters, Mrs. Bucher, Mrs. Mildred Proctor, Windsor, and Mrs. Theodore Howe and Miss Alberta Pfaff, both of Ionia; and two grandsons, Phillip and Melvin Ream, Green Ridge.

Attorney for the estate is Hazel Palmer.

The will of the late Mrs. Maude Lower, who died Nov. 23, was admitted to probate Tuesday. A nephew, Paul W. Stephens, Star Route, Sedalia, was named executor and included among the three heirs. The others are Joyce Stephens, a great-niece, and Helen Stephens, both of Star Route, Sedalia. Henry C. Salveter is attorney for the estate.

Magistrate Court

Charley Paddock was found guilty Tuesday of careless and imprudent driving after pleading not guilty and was fined $10 and costs.

In Other Courts

George Deuel, 2007 West Broadway, was awarded a judgment Tuesday of $11,500 for personal injuries received in an automobile accident Jan. 9 in which Fred W. Koenig was fatally injured.

The suit by Deuel against Donald Lee Wymer, 1324 West Fourth, and Earl Crawford, executor of the Koenig estate, was heard in the Cooper County Circuit Court on a change of venue from Pettis County.

Before the settlement, however, a stipulation for dismissal was entered as to Crawford.

Deuel was severely injured in the accident, a head-on collision between cars driven by Koenig and Wymer at the Georgetown Road cut-off, one mile north of Sedalia, at about 4:40 p.m.. He suffered fractures and lacerations of the face, a dislocated right hip, a fractured left arm and multiple cuts and bruises. He was taken to the Research Hospital in Kansas City. He was a passenger in Wymer's car.

Koenig died while being taken to Bothwell Hospital.

Deuel's attorney was Henry C. Salveter.

Telephone Company And Employes Give $783 to United Fund

The total contribution to the United Fund Drive from the Southwestern Bell Telephone Company and employees is $783, which represents 136 management and occupational employees.

The CIO and the CWA assisted in the collection from the five divisions. Those assisting from the traffic division were: Genevieve Watson, chairman, Mae Kirby, Marian Laudenberger, Mildred Jaeger, Edna Leffler and Jane Williams. Assisting Fred Cernic in the plant department were S. M. Nichols and F. J. Sedlak and those assisting in the other divisions, construction, commercial and plant engineers were Jack Shoemaker, Lee Johnson and Ed Kahde.

Prohibition Voted Out 20 Yrs. Ago Today

NEW YORK (AP)—Twenty years of growing pains bring the alcoholic beverage industry today face to face with the adult facts of life—high prices, high costs, high taxes, growing competition and an ever watchful public.

For the man who likes an occasional nip, next year might see a benefit pricewise, because of keener competition. But industry leaders insist that high taxes make for a fairly rigid price floor.

It was just 20 years ago this week that prohibition was repealed. In the two decades that you have been able to bend an elbow legally, the industry has grown 10-fold in dollar assets to a present rating of nine billion dollars. But just ahead lie these hazards:

Competition with other industries for a share of the consumer's dollar will grow as the boom wanes and family budgets are pinched. Liquor sales this year are moderately higher than last, but have not kept pace with population growth. Since 1946 the U. S. population has expanded about 10 per cent, but per capita sales of liquor are smaller today than then.

Distillers also face growing public concern over the toll of alcoholism—a problem being attacked now both within and without the industry as a disease instead of a crime, but a problem which advocates of prohibition still sincerely believe could best be solved their way.

There is also an insidious flank attack—the current popular resolve of the over-weight to forego calories. The industry fears loss of sales to the girth-conscious.

Keen competition among distillers seeking to move generally ample stocks may break out with the end of the current lushest season of the year, the holiday gift buying period. This year competition has brought a rash of fancy decanters to dealers' shelves.

And, finally, the industry faces a big tax battle in the next session of Congress against high excise levies which now price liquor into the luxury class for many families, and which the industry claims nourish bootlegging.

Showers Continue To Wet Missouri, Bring Little Relief

KANSAS CITY (AP)—Showers continued to peck away at drought-stricken Missouri today, but the moisture was far short of general relief.

However, the state appears certain to escape a snow storm now moving through Western Kansas and Nebraska.

Rainfall reports from dry Southern Missouri included: Joplin .99, Butler .79, Springfield .71, Malden .23, West Plains .22, Farmington .21 and Rolla .11.

St. Joseph received the most, a total of 1.59 inches since yesterday morning. Other reports included: Kansas City .81, Kirksville .55, Columbia .40 and St. Louis .05. Jefferson City had a two-day total of .29.

The forecast calls for showers in the east and north this afternoon with decreasing cloudiness in the southwest. Friday is expected to be cloudy and colder.

White Man Cannot Live Or Own Town Property

MOUND BAYOU, Miss. (AP) — A white man can't live or own property in this little delta town and Mayor B. A. Green said today that's the way it should stay.

"We're not interested," he said, in reply to a Mississippi Negro leader's proposal that Mound Bayou, the nation's only all-Negro town, should welcome as citizens anyone, regardless of race, creed or color.

The proposal was made by Dr. E. J. Stringer of Columbus, Miss., president of the Mississippi chapter of the National Assn. for the Advancement of Colored People.

Stringer, who used to live here, said he didn't believe Mound Bayou would ever "be a truly great town or city" until racial restrictions are lifted.

Said Mayor Green: "We're getting along fine just as we are."

Private Funeral Set For Bonnie Heady

MARYVILLE, Mo. (AP) — Mrs. Bonnie Brown Heady will have a private funeral service here after her execution Dec. 18 for the kidnaping of Bobby Greenlease.

John W. Price of the Price Funeral Home here who visited the woman yesterday in death row at the Missouri State Penitentiary, said the arrangements remained to be completed. Price was accompanied to Jefferson City by Mrs. Heady's aunt, Mrs. T. R. Baker, St. Joseph.

Earlier Mrs. Heady had said she wished to be buried in Clearmont Cemetery.

Price declined to say whether he would handle the funeral arrangements for Carl Austin Hall the other kidnaper who also is to die in the gas chamber Dec. 18.

Camdenton Girl, Hurt In Accident, Dies

SPRINGFIELD (AP) — A 16-year-old Camdenton girl who was injured in a highway accident Sept. 23 died today in a Springfield hospital.

She was Mina Lou Blair, daughter of Mrs. Louella Blair of Camdenton.

The girl was injured when a pickup truck in which she and five other young persons were riding overturned five miles south of Camdenton on Missouri Highway 5. She never regained consciousness.

Dempsey Will Wed Mrs. Auguste Soon

NEW YORK (AP) —Former heavyweight boxing champion Jack Dempsey and wealthy Mrs. Estelle Auguste of Palm Beach, Fla., today announced they will marry soon.

At a news conference in the Waldorf-Astoria Hotel, Mrs. Auguste, a pretty blonde, said:

"I really think it's wonderful to at last find a real man. In my orbit I've met so few of them."

The couple said the wedding date has not been set, but that it would be some time before Christmas.

"She is a wonderful girl," Dempsey said.

Dempsey, 58, has been married three times previously. Mrs. Auguste, 42, has been married twice before. Her last husband, the late Harmon Spencer Auguste, died four years ago leaving her a fortune.

Asked if reports that she was worth 45 million dollars were true, Mrs. Auguste smiled "That's not a nice question, so I won't talk about it."

Make Your Yule Safe and Sane

You can enjoy your Christmas to the fullest if you'll just observe a few safety precautions, advises the National Safety Council. Here are their suggestions to help make your Yuletide safer and saner:

1. If you plan a home party and want to use candles on your table, be sure that the centerpiece is not made of Christmas greens. These become very dry in a hot room and may be ignited quickly by the tiniest spark.

2. When buying decorating materials make sure they are flame proof. Avoid using candles near decorations. Provide plenty of ash trays so that guests will find them easily available. String decorations near the ceiling or place them well above the guests heads.

3. Set the tree where it does not obstruct an exit from the room, and away from fireplace and strong heat. Keep it in water from the time you bring it home. Make a fresh saw cut across the trunk base before setting it up. Place tree in water-containing holder. Fill it daily. Remove a dry tree from the premises immediately after the holidays.

4. A blown fuse may be the signal that the tree is overloaded dangerously with lights. Be sure fuses are right size, and don't use a penny in the fuse socket. Don't use lighted candles on the tree.

5. When hanging tree ornaments stand on a sturdy stool or ladder. Wear low-heeled shoes.

6. Buy safe toys for your youngsters. Select washable playthings colored with non-poisonous dye or paint. See that playthings are sturdy so they will not come apart leaving jagged edges. Check eyes, buttons and heads on dolls to make sure they cannot come off and be swallowed by a curious youngster.

Joint Chiefs For Gradual Defense Shift

NEW YORK (AP)—Adm. Arthur Radford, chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff, says the JCS favor a gradual—not radical—change in the national defense setup based on a long-term program.

The admiral, speaking last night before the American Ordnance Assn., did not mention the "new look" ordered by the Eisenhower administration after installing a new slate of members for the Joint Chiefs organization.

The Russians, Radford said, are capable of touching off a shooting war triggered by a "small group of men in the Kremlin."

He said the Soviet system includes a three-pronged method of gaining objectives: politico-economic, military, and psychological-propaganda. If one of them is turned back, he said, another is used.

In view of Russia's objectives, he said, talk, "and other planning factors, the new Joint Chiefs of Staff considered it absolutely mandatory that we not make any recommendations for radical changes—especially not on an overnight basis." He added:

"In discussing this with Secretary (of Defense) Wilson, we agreed that the best defense plans and programs will come about through evolution, if we plan deliberately and with wisdom.

"We further agreed that even though our military plans are based primarily on military factors, we must also take into account a wider range of policy and economic factors, as well as the latest technological developments.

"Therefore, in accordance with our established national policies and commitments, the Joint Chiefs of Staff submitted in October their recommendations for combat forces for fiscal year 1955.

"The forces do not represent any material change from those developed in previously approved plans except, of course, for certain increases we recommend for continental defense.

"Neither do these forces represent a decision to carry on just as before, merely for the sake of resistance to a change. They represent interim levels, pending the formulation and completion of a longer term program which continues under study. They represent a step in what I call our planning for the long term pull, in lieu of a particular year-of-crisis."

Witnesses Tell Events In Court Of Bank Holdup

ST. LOUIS (AP) — A number of witnesses who played dramatic roles in the attempted $141,000 robbery of a St. Louis bank last Spring testified yesterday in the trial of William F. Scholl, charged with first degree robbery in the April 24 holdup.

The circuit court trial enters its third day today.

One witness, Armand Cantino, a bank customer, identified the 28-year-old Scholl, a Chicago war veteran, as the bandit who at pistol point ordered him to walk out the bullet-filled front entrance of the bank to "tell the cops to quit shooting."

Another was police Sgt. Robert Heitz, the first officer to enter the bank, who told of wounding Scholl before being felled by bandit bullets himself.

Wilmer P. Lee, assistant vice president of the Southwest Bank, testified that he was grabbed by Scholl and turned over to one of the other bandits, Frank B. Vito, to be used as a shield. Lee said he fled when the bandit stopped firing to reload his pistol.

Four bandits staged the daring daylight raid on the bank. Scholl was captured. Another, Vito, killed himself, rather than surrender. A third was fatally wounded in a gun battle with police as scores of officers trapped the gang within the bank.

The fourth bandit escaped in the getaway car. He was identified as Glen Chernick, also of Chicago, who is awaiting trial on robbery charges.

Scholl, specifically charged with taking $18,000 from a teller, faces a sentence ranging from five years imprisonment to death if convicted.

Linn Creek Cedar Factory Destroyed

LINN CREEK, Mo., (AP) — The Osage Product Co., largest cedar closet lining factory west of the Mississippi River, was destroyed by fire last night.

Bill Rainer, owner of the company, estimated the loss at $100,000. The company manufactured a cedar closet lining veneer.

Cause of the fire was undetermined.

RED POSTAGE—The Communist East German government has issued this new stamp, showing Stalin Allee, the "Red Glamor Boulevard," in the Soviet sector of Berlin. Formerly called Frankfurter Allee, the street has been reconstructed in typical Soviet style. It was on this thoroughfare that East German workers started their revolt last June.

DE-RIBBONED—Momentary triumph is enjoyed by Richard Carey, 19, right, of Mineral Springs, Wis., as Jess C. Andrews, left, president of the International Livestock Exposition, awards "Blackie" the Purple Championship Ribbon as Junior Champion Steer of the show. Show officials later ruled that tests showed the Aberdeen Angus was over the 23-month age limit for entrants. Carey's family says that the disqualification, first in the 54-year history of the show, will be appealed.

How ROK POW Reacted When Asked to Return to His Home

PANMUNJOM (AP)—The prisoner of war, a South Korean, was in his early 20s. He smoked a cigarette, his face impassive.

Across the small table from him today, a South Korean major expounded the attractions of the republic over Communist North Korea.

It was the second day of Allied explanations which had failed, up to this point, to win back a single captive from Red ideology.

The major promised promotions, rewards, medical treatment and pardons for any crimes. Then he asked permission to play recordings. The POW agreed.

First came the strains of the South Korean national anthem, then the voices of recent voluntary repatriates telling of good treatment in their homeland.

The captive asked the addresses of the repatriates. The major supplied them.

South Korea had been rehabilitated, the major said. He unfolded a two-page spread of pictures from the U.S. Army newspaper Stars and Stripes showing the progress.

The captive asked the major his name, address, military unit. He wrote the answers carefully.

"Who sent you?" the POW asked. "Why did you take the trouble to travel to Panmunjom?"

The major replied, softly, patiently.

"I know everything about South Korea," the captive interjected. "I am sure you must know why I chose freedom and decided not to return to South Korea."

An Indian guard spoke. "You should listen to the explainer."

"Tung-moo," the young major said. "Comrade."

It was not the Communist salutation, but the South Korean address of a soldier to a soldier.

"Tung-moo, do you want the interview to continue?"

"Yes, please continue"

The major laid aside his notes.

"Your absence has brought tears to the eyes of your mother," he said.

"The scientists say that a tear is just water. I think they are right—but I think there is something more.

"I think there is love in a tear. Your mother is crying and waiting for you."

The prisoner did not answer. He went on scribbling notes.

When the major stopped speaking, the prisoner jumped to his feet.

"You know South Korea as well as I do," he said. "That is why I am going north."

"I will see you one day."

Civilian Federal Job Holders' List Drops For 15th Month

WASHINGTON (AP) — A Senate-House committee reported today the number of civilian federal jobholders dropped in October for the 15th consecutive month.

The government's payroll was put at 2,373,113 in October, a decrease of 28,697 compared with September and of 196,941 compared with October 1952.

The figures came from the joint committee on reduction of nonessential federal expenditures, headed by Sen. Byrd (D-Va.)

The federal employment decline began in the summer of 1952 under the Truman administration and has been carried forward steadily by the Eisenhower regime.

The committee said civilian government jobs are split almost evenly between the Defense Department and all other agencies, with 1,193,655 civilians working for the armed forces and 1,179,458 persons working for other departments.

Rabbit Catches Fire, Dashes Over Field Setting More Fires

By Mrs. Roy Meyer

SWEET SPRINGS — John Wiley, district forester of the Daniel Boone fire protection district, said that a hired hand on the Leo Hammett farm was burning brush piles on the farm and that there was a rabbit in one of them, which waited too long before deserting his place of shelter. His fur caught fire. He then raced across the drouth-seared field spreading fire behind him. Two acres were burned before it could be brought under control. John is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Wylie, Sweet Springs.

Those from here who attended the Royal Arch Mason banquet at Marshall Tuesday night were: Junior Crain, Fred Everett, Taylor Hook, Vernie Haggard, Ralph Cook, Waldo Whitsitt, Dr. Paul A. Roberts, Charles Langston, Dr. Charles Worley, William Martin, John Gibson and Mr. Lawson.

Senate Will See Gouzenko Amid Secrecy

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Senate internal security subcommittee went ahead with public hearings in Washington today after accepting the Canadian government's terms for a secret interview with Igor Gouzenko in Canada.

At today's Communists-in-government hearing, the subcommittee expected to receive Justice Department records showing when FBI reports were sent top federal officials on some of the late Harry Dexter White's associates in the Treasury Department.

Information of this nature was sought on V. Frank Coe, Victor Perlo and Solomon Adler—all of whom, like White, have been named before the subcommittee as onetime members of a Soviet spy network within the government.

Atty. Gen. Brownell touched off the investigations Nov. 6 when he charged former President Truman promoted White in 1946 in the face of FBI reports linking White to Russian espionage.

Subcommittee Chairman Jenner (R-Ind) announced the decision on Gouzenko late yesterday after a meeting in his office.

The senator made public a letter to Secretary of State Dulles asking that secret arrangements be made for the interview so that Gouzenko's security would be protected.

Gouzenko fled from the Soviet Embassy in Ottawa, where he had been a code clerk, in September 1945, and tipped off Canadian authorities to a Russian spy ring operating in Canada with contacts in the United States. He has been living in Canada in anonymity under protection of the Royal Mounted Police.

Whether Gouzenko will agree to being questioned by the subcommittee is in doubt. He was quoted earlier this week as saying he would decline to be interviewed for fear of jeopardizing the safety of his wife, two children and himself. Authorities at Ottawa said last night the mounted police would find out from Gouzenko whether he is willing to be questioned.

He told the Mounties last Oct. 27 he has no new information, but subsequently he made a statement in which he said he felt he could give the Jenner subcommittee some useful advice.

The Canadian government has also specified that the questioning must be under Canadian auspices and that any information so obtained can be made public only with the approval of Canadian authorities.

Jenner had objected to this last condition but, after Dulles sided with Canada on the point, he announced the subcommittee had decided to accept the Canadian terms.

He said one reason for wanting to question Gouzenko was to find out of he has information that might disclose a new spy ring in this government.

Challenges Conductor To a Musical Duel, Flue Vs. Trombone

MEXICO CITY (AP)—A flute player dishonorably discharged from the Mexican army on charges of playing sour notes at the Falcon Dam dedication has challenged his accuser to a musical duel—flute versus a trombone.

Sgt. Silvestre Mayorga was ousted in disgrace for what his superior called playing false notes in a rendition of the national anthem in the presence of Presidents Eisenhower and Ruiz Cortines. Mayorga appealed.

At a hearing yesterday he said he played for 15 years with symphonic orchestras and the ballet and with the orchestra at the Palace of Fine Arts.

Trombone player Amador Perez, director of the army band, had little training by comparison, Mayorga said, and knew little or nothing about flutes.

Furthermore, Mayorga said, he would be happy to meet Perez on the field of honor and let experts decide whether he could tweedle the flute better than Perez could woof with the trombone.

Doctor Reports One Of Hijab Quadruplets Will Soon Go Home

GAINSEVILLE, Fla. (AP) — The Hijab quadruplets are making "considerable progress,' their doctor has announced—so much that one of them—the only boy—will be ready to leave the hospital when they're a month old.

Dr. Raymond S. Camp made his comment when the babies, born Nov. 18, were weighed last night.

The boy, Omar Bakri Hijab, scaled 4 pounds 1½ ounces—a gain of 9½ ounces. At that rate he'll be home with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Wasfi Hijab, Moslem Jordan students at the University of Florida, in two more weeks, Camp said.

Cannibal Feasts Ended

SYDNEY (AP) — A New Guinea mission claims it has weaned a group of cannibals away from their age old custom of eating all their dead. Pastor H. White, Seventh-day Adventist Mission Administrator for the Coral Sea area, told of these New Guineans, who, he said, formerly ate bodies to perpetuate the strength of the dead. The former cannibals, he said in an interview, live in a recently opened area of New Guinea near the Dutch border.

"They used to eat everybody from young babies to old chiefs," he said. "Not only did they eat the flesh, but they used to grind the bones up for bone meal.

Can Shortage May Result From Strikes

PITTSBURGH (AP) — A can shortage faced the citrus industry today as the result of a strike against the nation's two largest can manufacturers. No settlement is in sight.

The strike by the CIO United Steelworkers at 73 plants of American Can Co. and Continental Can Co. in the United States and Canada has almost throttled production.

Citrus canners in Florida, where operations are at their peak, have expressed the most concern. Some say their stocks of cans will run out in a matter of days.

And one canner predicted the state's citrus industry will face "one of the most serious crises in its history" if the strike is prolonged.

The first layoffs resulting from the strike were reported in Indianapolis, Ind., where Stokely-Van Camp furloughed 280 workers. American Can supplies this firm.

In Pittsburgh, Federal Mediator George Woomer said negotiations are at dead center. No peace talks are scheduled.

Representatives of the two firms left Pittsburgh for their New York headquarters yesterday. They said they had heard nothing from the union since the strike began Tuesday midnight.

Union bargainers scattered to their homes throughout the country immediately after negotiations deadlocked and the walkout started.

American Can and Continental together employ 33,000 USW members who walked off the job.

A spokesman for the California fruit industry said so far it has been little affected by the strike. Producers of baby food, coffee and milk predicted trouble if the strike lasts.

The union struck to back up demands for a reported 12-cent hourly wage increase and several fringe benefits. A 10½-cent hourly pay package offer was rejected. Workers now average $1.80 in U.S. plants and $1.50 in Canadian plants.

Returns 'Buttons,' Suspends $29 in Fines

DELTA, Colo. (AP)—Police Judge N. E. Darrow returned 29 "buttons" with which three Indians had attempted to pay drunkenness fines yesterday. The buttons came off their wives' clothing.

They were silver dollars defaced by copper loops welded to them. A bank refused to accept them.

The judge suspended the $29 in fines.

Pardon Me, Officer

CHANDLER, Okla. (AP) — Policeman Hank Albritton promptly arrested a motorist for drunkenness when the driver, holding up traffic for blocks, demanded indignantly, "When's that light going to change?"

The Red light he was referring to was part of downtown Chandler's new Christmas decorations.

Legislature Is Asked To Clear Famed Salem Witches At Long Last

BOSTON (AP) — The 1954 Massachusetts Legislature has been asked to clear those famed Salem witches after, lo, these 2½ centuries.

Two Essex County men filed a bill yesterday to reverse the 1692 witchcraft conviction of Ann Pudeator and others.

Ann was hanged on Gallows Hill. Twenty-one other persons also were executed or died in jail before the witch hunt ended.

Names New Circuit Judge In St. Louis

JEFFERSON CITY (AP) — O. P. Owen is the new Eighth Circuit judge in St. Louis, appointed yesterday by Gov. Phil M. Donnelly.

Owen, described by the governor as a prominent trial lawyer, succeeds Judge Harry F. Russell who retired voluntarily Oct. 10 because of poor health.

Still pending before the governor are three panels of nominees under the nonpartisan court plan for three new judgeships in Jackson County. The nominating commission sent the same names back to Donnelly after he had rejected commission sent the same names back to Donnelly after he had rejected them once as violating the spirit of the nonpartisan plan.

Demo Committee Set To Elect Treasurer

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Democratic National Committee will meet Dec. 12 in Philadelphia.

Stephen A. Mitchell, chairman of the committee, in announcing the meeting last night, said it will be held in connection with the Atlantic States Jefferson-Jackson Dinner and conference to be held on the same date.

Mitchell said the meeting was called to elect a treasurer and for any other business that may come before the committee. The post of treasurer has been vacant since the resignation of Dwight R. G. Palmer last May.

Philadelphia School Board Okays Unique Pupil Insurance Plan

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—A unique accident insurance plan for schoolteachers and their pupils has been given the approval of the Philadelphia Board of Education.

Parents will be able to buy policies for their children for $1.25 a year. Teachers will pay a slightly higher rate.

The policies would provide accident coverage up to $2,000 for medical expenses on a single accident and will be underwritten by a private insurance firm, the board said. Coverage would be effective from the time the pupil or teacher leaves home until he returns home after classes.

Ohio River Develops Strange Case of Suds

WHEELING, W. Va. (AP) — That "strange, white bubbly substance" stretching from shore to shore in the Ohio River has been identified. It's soap.

A. R. Todd, chemist at Wheeling filtration plant, announced today his analysis showed it to be 32 pounds of detergent—a synthetic soap product—to each million gallons of water.

Todd said the detergent might have been accumulating in creeks during the long dry spell from family washings and other cleaning processes and was flushed into the river during the recent light rain.

Writes Book Report To Get Late Diploma

BREWER, Maine (AP)—Avery D. Olmstead is working on a book report, 22 years overdue, that held up the Brewer High School diploma he should have received in 1931.

The East Orrington man said he wants the diploma for Christmas—which also is his 48th birthday.

School Principal Melvin T. Leighton said, "We have his diploma. School officials have authorized me to give him the diploma when he completes the book report."

Dean Warns Reds Of About Face For Peace Talks

PANMUNJOM (AP)—U. S. envoy Arthur Dean warned today that if the Communists want a Korean peace conference they must do "a complete about face" on demands that Russia be invited as a neutral nation.

Dean told the Reds that "sterile, nonproductive and uncooperative" insistence on Russian neutrality could stall the conference "indefinitely and perhaps forever."

Dean and the Communists met for 3½ hours—the longest meeting so far in 5½ weeks of preliminary talks to arrange the peace conference.

Dean said he was trying to break the deepening deadlock and had received no instructions to put a time limit on the preliminary talks.

The Communists today flatly rejected Dean's latest plan for a political conference, but made no specific mention of his proposal to seat Soviet Russia as a third party.

His proposal would make Russia a full participant but not directly a member of the Communist belligerent delegation. The Russians would have to vote as a unit with the North Koreans and the Chinese, however.

Steve Cochran Fined For Reckless Driving

CULVER CITY, Calif. (AP)—Actor Steve Cochran was convicted yesterday of reckless driving and fined $100.

A policeman testified before Judge O. Benton Worley that he had to fire a warning shot to bring the actor's $6,000 sports car to a halt last Nov. 8.

Officer Roger Deveux said he stopped Cochran after a five-mile chase and was told by the actor: "You never would have caught me if you hadn't shot—that wasn't very fair."

Snow Rainbow

A rainbow may be seen all day long in a cloudless sky, in the coldest parts of Siberia. The rainbow is due to the reflection of the sun on fine particles of snow in the air.

Sedalian Participates In Winter Concert At Minnesota College

Miss Annette Moser, freshman at the College of Saint Teresa, Winona, Minn., appeared in the winter concert of the Teresan Choral Club which was held Tuesday evening in the college auditorium.

Miss Moser is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Moser, 919 West Fourth, and is a graduate of Sacred Heart High School.

Continue Testimony Asking Air Service

MUSKOGEE, Okla. (AP) — Civic leaders from Fort Smith, Ark., today continued their testimony before a Civil Aeronautics Board favoring Central Airline's application to serve northwest Arkansas.

Some half dozen businessmen are to testify why Fort Smith needs the air service.

The first witness yesterday, bank executive Grover Jernigan, told presiding CAB Examiner Barron Fredericks his community has 70 million dollars annually in retail sales and that present air service by Braniff Airways is inadequate.

Central has applied for permission to extend its route from Muskogee to Little Rock via Fort Smith, Fayetteville, and Hot Springs. Trans-Texas Airways is opposing the proposed flight between Hot Springs and Little Rock and has asked its own route be extended from Little Rock to Tulsa through Fort Smith and Fayetteville.

Central also is seeking a route from Kansas City to Paris, Tex., by way of Joplin, Mo., Tulsa, Muskogee and Dallas.

Kind Policemen Get Cold Shoulder Now

SHAWNEE, Okla. (AP)—Two kind policemen picked up a skunk, run over by a car, and took him to police headquarters at City Hall, believing him to be a pet—the odorized variety.

But there the ungrateful skunk cut loose with a blast that sent officers Ernie Coleman and Henry Shelton running for cover. Now nobody around City Hall will speak to them.

Man Won't Talk Of Rape Slaying

HOLBROOK, Ariz. (AP)—Carl J. Folk, a 60-year-old, 215-pound carnival owner, refused to talk today in a local hospital after being charged with the rape-slaying of a woman while her husband lay bound and gagged nearby.

Folk was accused of killing Mrs. Betty Faye Allen of Wattsburg, Pa., 22, in a trailer near here.

Her husband, Raymond, 25, a machine tool repairman, spent a night of horror while tied hand and foot in the trailer and listening to his wife's screams.

He finally wiggled loose and shot the assailant in the stomach. Folk's condition is not regarded as serious.

Investigating officers said Mrs. Allen's hair and body had been burned by her tormentor. Her hands and feet were tied and there was a sheet knotted around her neck.

Meanwhile, the Allen's two-year-old son slept undisturbed in the trailer.

It was reported from Albuquerque, N. M., that Folk is under a five-year suspended sentence in connection with raping a young girl. After being committed to the insane asylum, he was released a few weeks later on a convalescent parole.

Lt. Shoulders' Wife Files For a Divorce

ST. LOUIS (AP)—A suit for divorce has been filed against resigned Police Lt. Louis Shoulders, who cracked the Greenlease kidnap-murder.

In a suit filed in circuit court yesterday, Mrs. Florence Shoulders charged the 55-year-old Shoulders with general indignities. She asked "at least $200 a month" allmony and custody of the youngest of their three children, 20-year-old Frank Shoulders.

Shoulders, who recently was quoted as saying he hoped to marry his landlady, Miss June Marie George, declined comment.

Shoulders resigned from the police force during a police investigation of his arrest of the kidnap-killer, Carl Austin Hall, and recovery of about half of the $600,000 Greenlease ransom. The police board has not acted on the resignation while continuing the inquiry.

Hall and his accomplice, Mrs. Bonnie Brown Heady, are awaiting execution in the Missouri gas chamber Dec. 18 for the murder of 6-year-old Bobby Greenlease. More than $300,000 of the ransom still is missing.

Upholds Board's Right To Dismiss Teachers For Not Testifying

LOS ANGELES (AP)—The Superior Court has upheld the right of the Los Angeles City School Board to dismiss three teachers for refusal to testify before the House Committee on Un-American Activities.

Judge Joseph W. Vickers held yesterday with the school board that the teachers could be dismissed for unprofessional conduct, evident unfitness for office and refusal to obey reasonable regulations.

Counsel for the teachers, Abraham Minkus, Serril L. Gerber and Harry Shepro, said they would appeal.

Husband Corners TV, She Gets Divorce

SANTA MONICA, Calif. (AP)—In support of her petition for a divorce decree, Mrs. Gladys L. Myers, 57, complained that her husband Stanley, 53, aircraft plant policeman, watched television by the hour and forced her to stay in the kitchen meanwhile.

The court granted her a decree.

Auditor Is Opposed To Budget Ignoring His Own Salary

ST. LOUIS (AP)—Auditor Clarence H. Hackmann, who helped prepare the budget, entered a firm objection to approving the proposed expenditures when they came up before the St. Louis County Council.

Hackmann's own annual salary, an $8,500 item, was missing from the proposed budget.

A deputy omitted the auditor's salary, Hackmann said, while preparing the salary listings. The error wasn't discovered until the budget had been submitted.

Council Chairman Charles R. Skow added Hackmann's missing salary to the $49,832 office salary budget, still pending before the group.

Speech Trouble

Kansas City, Kas. (AP) — Howard Payne made his first public speech in the more than 35 years as city clerk, and that, he soon found, was one speech too many.

The official addressed a civic group and told the members, amiably, to call his office any time: "I promise your question will be answered even if it is only asking the time of day."

In the next 24 hours, the pained Payne gave the time of day — plus a sprinkling of other, equally momentous information — to 150 callers.

JENKINS-GREER HAS NEW LINCOLN—The refreshingly different appearance of the 1954 Lincoln has been enhanced by the smart new styling scheme seen here in the four-door Capri sedan. New bumper guards and wrap-around bumpers combine with new side mouldings and a jewelled gravel shield to give greater visual length. Improvements to the 205-horsepower overhead valve V-8 engine and to the body structure, as well as new interior trim fabrics and upholsteries, feature all 1954 Lincoln models.

Pappy Noel, Once a POW, Feels Korea Was Necessary

We heard Frank 'Pappy' Noel the other day speaking at an Associated Press meeting and some of the things he said are sure to interest you.

Pappy, you'll remember, is the Associated Press photographer who was taken prisoner by the Reds in Korea, along with a group of front line Marines, and was kept in camp for 33 months. He was among the prisoners released in the POW exchange.

You would imagine Noel would be most angry at the people who held him captive, but that is not the case. He takes his 'mad' out on those people in America who refuse to answer Congressional investigations, hiding behind the Fifth Amendment, and claiming their answers might incriminate them.

These are the people, Noel believes, who held the greatest threat to the United States.

Noel is the most anti-Communist we've ever met.

"An American will proudly say he's an American," Noel claims.

Life in the prison camps, especially for officers (and as a correspondent Noel was kept with the officers most of the time), was rugged. They were interrogated for hours every day for the first several weeks, even months, after being captured. They were not allowed to question their interrogators until the final weeks in camp.

Sometimes it was quite a game, Noel said, to keep from listening to the pro-Communist speeches which were delivered to them, often for as much as seven hours per day for days on end. A fellow had to perform mental gymnastics to keep from listening to the "stuff," he said. And he added it was understandable how some prisoners were swayed by the captors.

At the latter stage of imprisonment, Noel pointed out, it was possible for the prisoners to fire questions back at their captors and when they did the result usually was for the questioner to start going around talking to himself. The Americans could easily ask questions the Communists could not answer.

Such questions would play upon the Chinese and Korean hatred of the Russians and would have to do with why the Russians were staying so long in China after the work they came to do had been finished — at least the work they claimed they had come to do had been completed.

Noel was asked by one member of the group just who the American GIs and other Allies were fighting in Korea. Without batting an eyelash, Pappy stormed back the answer: "We were fighting the Russians, remember that."

He said he saw many Russian officers during his months of captivity and he learned from all sources that it was the Russians who had instigated the war and had kept it going.

Most of the ammunition was Russian made and almost all goods in China and North Korea came from Russia and Czechoslovakia.

Food is plentiful in parts of China, and Manchuria is a veritable food basket, Noel declared.

When he was asked about the advisability of the war in Korea, Noel was emphatic in stating it was necessary and had helped with world peace.

In his opinion the Russians wanted to see if Uncle Sam would really fight. They picked the place it would be most difficult for Sam to wage war — a spot 5,000 miles from a supply line and an area of almost impossible battlegrounds.

When Uncle put up his dukes, the Russians were convinced, Noel said, and that attitude on the part of America and the United Nations stopped wars that he believes would have broken out elsewhere, especially in parts of Europe.

Santa Claus Is On His Way

He's Hustling Right Along So He Can Be Here In Person For Sedalia's

Fourth Annual DOWNTOWN CHRISTMAS PARADE

Friday Evening December 4th. at 6:30 o'clock

Friday's the big Day! It's Santa Claus Day! Yes, it's the day when old Santa in person will make his first appearance of the 1953 Christmas Season on the Streets of SEDALIA as the spotlight figure in the giant three-mile Christmas Parade!

This year Santa asked that we hold the parade at night so that all school children in the Sedalia area, all the mothers and fathers who are employed . . . so that everyone could have an opportunity to attend . . . and at night it will be!

So, eat your evening meal a little early . . . hustle along with dishwashing . . . and hurry downtown, or along the parade route for a front row viewing position. Guy Peabody, Santa appointed parade chairman, says that the parade will start promptly at 6:30 o'clock from its starting point at Sixteenth and Grand, so as not to take too much of Santa's busy time.

Besides old Saint Nick in person, there will be dozens and dozens of colorful floats, bands from all over the area, singing carolers, parading horses . . . and many wonderful holiday parade sights.

Make a party of it and bring your family, friends, neighbors. Make a day of it if you live outside of Sedalia . . . and tour Sedalia's stores and see all the fascinating Christmas Wonderland of gifts and toys . . . eat downtown - - - - and see the parade at 6:30.

Come, Bring The Family and See The Christmas Parade Friday Evening!

Sedalia Stores Are All Aglow With Holiday-Bright Christmas Gifts For Everyone On Your List!

Come, Spend The Day Shopping, Eat Downtown, and Enjoy The Christmas Parade Friday Evening Starting at 6:30.

Player Rift With Owners Is Widened

ATLANTA (AP)—The strained relationship between the major league players and owners reached its widest breach today following a pair of bombshells exploded yesterday.

It began with the refusal of the player representatives of the 16 major league clubs to attend a scheduled meeting with Commissioner Ford Frick because their attorney, J. Norman Lewis, had been barred.

It ended with the commissioner's revelation that the major league Executive Council was considering the termination of the players' multimillion - dollar pension plan.

Frick disclosed at a news conference that the major league owners, at their annual meeting in New York next week, will vote on a resolution that could dissolve the entire pension plan without 90 days although its present five-year setup does not expire until 1956.

Frick explained that all player representatives responded but it was not until 15 minutes before the proposed meeting yesterday morning that Ralph Kiner and Allie Reynolds, player spokesmen in their respective leagues, called on him to permit Lewis to be present.

"I told them that was not possible," Frick said.

Frick said he felt he had the right to summon anyone he wanted—player or club official—in the interests of baseball, without any outsider present.

Kiner and Reynolds contended that Lewis was their official legal counsel and they advised Frick that the players had unanimously voted that Lewis must be admitted or they would not attend themselves.

All player representatives departed for their homes except Reynolds, who said he would attend the American League meeting in New York next week. Will Harridge, president American league, however, said the invitation to Reynolds to attend the American League session had been withdrawn. Reynolds was not immediately available for comment.

If the owners' resolution should be approved next week, it would terminate one of the most elaborate pension funds ever set up in sports. Conceived in 1947 and expanded in 1952 with the addition of an annual million-dollar allotment from World Series and All-Star Game receipts, it now provides a fund that assures an income of $100 a month to 10-year players on retiring at the age of 50 on down to $50 a month for five-year men.

Frick explained that the players demanded their pension payments be increased from $50 to $80 for five-year men and from $100 to $150 for 10-year men. At the same time, the players wanted to reduce the 50-year age eligibility to 45 while paying smaller premiums. He explained that would boost the cost to an addition 1½ million dollars annually over the next five years.

Currently the players pay around $100,000 a year to the pension fund while each club pays about $125,000 a year plus the difference needed to pay off back service of players who had major league service prior to the pension fund inaugural.

Chicago U. Making Comeback as Cagers

CHICAGO (AP) — Don't look now, but the new basketball cry is: "Stop Chicago!"

The de-emphasized University of Chicago Maroons, one-time Big Ten member, opened their basketball season with an 89-42 victory over George Williams College of Chicago last night.

It was their second triumph in their last 56 starts. Chicago lost 49 in a row before defeating Navy Pier of Chicago late last season, then dropped five more before the season ended.

The 89 points were said to be a new modern record for the Maroons, erasing the 63 they scored against Coe College three years ago.

The South American llama expresses anger at its master by spitting at him.

Talbot Feels Army's Blaik Is Real Coach of the Year

NEW YORK (AP)—For our money, only one man is worthy of serious consideration for having turned in the finest job of coaching in the football season now coming to a close. If Earl (Red) Blaik of Army doesn't get the award they should examine the ballot box for signs of tampering.

There possibly are better teams in the land than the task force of Cadets which ripped Navy before a national audience last week. Through sheer manpower the leading teams might grind Army into defeat somewhere in the second half. But we do not believe they could do it for the first 30 minutes of play.

Therefore, our contention is that Blaik did the outstanding job. He started with little, never had much beyond 11 good men, and finished up with a slick outfit that compared with the very best. Coach George Munger of Penn, whose teamed played both, unhesitatingly places the Cadets on a level with Notre Dame.

We have just been looking over an article by one of football's global thinkers. It appeared last September, and it attempted to rank the leading teams by sections. It was remarkably accurate, too, except for the East. Navy was picked as the titular head of the region and Army was placed away down eighth, guaranteed to lose more games than it would win.

That gives an idea of the sort of material Blaik was known to have to work with in his third season of rebuilding from the ashes of the so-called cribbing scandal. The consensus was that the man up the Hudson, genius that he might be, would need at least two more years to put another contender together.

The final tally shows how wrong the experts can get. The reborn Cadets lost one game, an early season decision to Northwestern which they might well have won, and they were tied by Tulane. They won their other seven, and no one will dispute that their closing triumph over Navy was about as impressive as anything seen on the national hookup all season.

Big 7 Cagers Open Season This Weekend

KANSAS CITY (AP) — Big Seven conference basketball teams will open the new season this weekend with four schools in action Saturday night.

Playing the first games will be Kansas State, Oklahoma, Nebraska and Iowa State. The others, including defending champion and favorite Kansas, will begin their slates next week.

The opposition for Saturday includes two Big Ten teams. Oklahoma will meet Illinois at Norman, Okla., and Nebraska will take on Minnesota at Lincoln.

Kansas State, second to Kansas in hot races the past two seasons, will meet Denver at Manhattan, Kan., Iowa State has a date with Grinnell at Ames, Ia.

Missouri will start with Drake at Columbia and Colorado with Colorado A&M at Boulder next Monday.

Coach Phog Allen's Kansas Jayhawks will start against Tulane in New Orleans on Thursday.

Kansas is strongly favored to win its third straight Big Seven title. And as usual, Kansas State is expected to make the strongest challenge to Allen's crew, which will boast one of the league's finest holdover stars in lanky center B. H. Born. The Jayhawks, 1952 NCAA champions, were edged in the national finals by Indiana last March.

Tex Winter, who replaces Jack Gardner at Kansas State, is the only new head coach in the loop. A former assistant to Gardner, Winter was head man at Marquette last year.

After Kansas and Kansas State with the pre-season guessers comes Missouri for third place and Oklahoma, Nebraska, Iowa State and Colorado battling for the other spots.

Major Leaguer Would Abandon Player Pensions

ATLANTA (AP) — A major league club official, who asked not to be identified, has bitterly denounced the players and said he is ready to "junk" the entire pension plan.

He said after yesterday's refusal of player representatives of the 16 major league clubs to attend a scheduled meeting with Commissioner Ford Frick because their attorney, J. Norman Lewis, was barred:

"They (the players) want everything and put in nothing. Some of the club owners are in favor of chucking the whole thing. The players don't realize that most of them (the owners) lost money last year and some of them are skating on thin ice.

"They've (the players) gone too far this time. First they want a higher minimum in salary, then cut down on night games, then eliminate night games in spring training, then give the right of 10-year men to eight years. Now they want to increase their pension benefits while lowering the age retirement at a cost of nearly eight million dollars.

"Well, they've asked for a showdown and this is it."

There was no immediate player comment on the club official's remarks.

Aussie Tennis Stars Move Into the Finals

MELBOURNE, Australia (AP) — [illegible] Davis Cuppers watched intently from the grandstand, Australia's flash 19-year-old court twins, Ken Rosewall and Lewis Hoad, stroked their way today to the final of the Victorian Tennis Championships.

The top seeded Rosewall, a cool backcourt machine, smothered George Worthington 6-1, 2-6, 6-0, 6-1.

The stocky Hoad, pulling off service aces seemingly whenever it suited his fancy, powered past the vastly improved Rex Hartwig 2-6, 6-4, 6-3, 6-4.

The American forces, who hope to challenge for the Cup here later this month, got little encouragement from watching the Sydney teenagers outclass the two Aussie upsetters who previously had eliminated Uncle Sam's brightest stars.

Worthington had beat Wimbledon Champion Vice Seixas in the second round while Hartwig had upset U. S. champion Tony Trabert in the quarter-finals.

Aragon Is Favored To Defeat Womber

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Art Aragon of Los Angeles, the so-called Golden Boy who rates seventh among the world welterweight fighters, is favored to whip Danny (Bang Bang) Womber of Chicago in their 10-round match tonight at the Olympic Auditorium.

Boxing infrequently, Araon has not had singular success this year. He stopped Elmer Beltz in one round but lost decisions to Billy Graham and Ramon Fuentes.

Womber has had his troubles, too, and his most recent loss was to Fuentes, the Los Angeles ex-gravedigger who rates No. 4 in the division.

Bevo Francis Makes Debut Tonight In NY

NEW YORK (AP)—Bevo Francis brings Ohio hill country basketball to the big town tonight with the opening of the Madison Square Garden college season.

The 6-foot-9 scoring sensation and his teammates from little Rio Grande College—smallest school ever to be represented in the Garden's 20 years of college basketball—take on Adelphi College of Garden City, N. Y., with St. John's of Brooklyn, runner-up in last season's National Invitation Tournament, facing Lafayette in the other game.

Under normal conditions the twin bill might attract upwards of 14,000 fans. But, because of the strike which has closed all New York newspapers, Francis will get a real test of his drawing power.

Anything above 10,000 will represent a personal boxoffice triumph for the gangling young man who in his freshman season averaged an amazing 50.1 points per game.

When it comes to scoring, however, Bevo has a real rival in Furman's Frank Selvy, scourge of the Southlands. Furman has played and lost two games in two nights but Selvy, a 6-4 Kentuckian, is setting a torrid pace in defense of his national scoring crown.

Against North Carolina State Tuesday night he scored 31 points and last night he dropped in 40 as his club bowed to Duke 110-76.

Selvy, who averaged 29.5 per game last season, needs only 489 more points to break the three-year major college record of 1,888 set by Clyde Lovellette of Kansas in 1952.

Last night was another big one for basketball all around.

The new Atlantic Coast Conference opened its season with Maryland edging South Carolina 53-49 in the final 15 seconds. Purdue of the Big Ten started with a 83-64 verdict over Valparaiso.

The Oklahoma Aggies made it plain that they are again out to slow down the high-scoring clubs. Hank Iba's Aggies, always among the top defensive clubs, held Texas in check 54-37. In two games the Oklahomans have allowed a total of 77 points.

The University of Chicago won its second game in its last 56 starts and broke its own scoring record in the process. The Maroons beat George Williams College of Chicago 89-42.

All America Tom Gola scored 18 points as La Salle of Philadelphia opened with a 79-57 victory over Millersville, Pa., Teachers.

At Brunswick, Maine, a goal in the last 15 seconds gave New Hampshire a 92-90 decision over Bowdoin. West Virginia outlasted Carnegie Tech 96-92.

Cards, Redlegs In Major Trades

ATLANTA (AP) — The St. Louis Cardinals and Cincinnati Redlegs kept the trading business at the minor league convention from being a complete dud by transacting a deal involving a pair of second line players yesterday.

The Cardinals acquired Alex Grammas, a young shortstop, in exchange for relief pitcher Jack Crimian. The Cards also paid out an estimated sum of $25,000.

Both Grammas and Crimian were in the minor league last season.

Grammas batted .307 for Kansas City and was named to the American Association All-Star team. A 25-year-old righthanded hitter, the lad is regarded an excellent fielder. Crimian had a 12-5 record at Rochester, working mainly in relief.

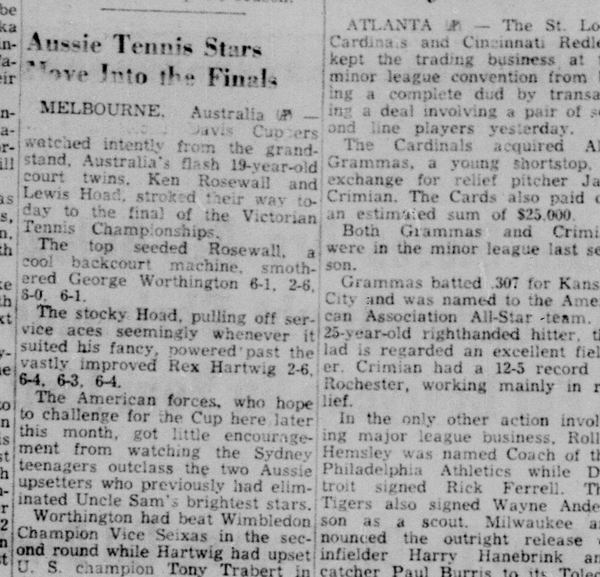

In the only other action involving major league business, Rollie Hemsley was named Coach of the Philadelphia Athletics while Detroit signed Rick Ferrell. The Tigers also signed Wayne Anderson as a scout. Milwaukee announced the outright release of infielder Harry Hanebrink and catcher Paul Burris to its Toledo farm in the American Association.

Luke Sewell, former manager of the St. Louis Browns and Cincinnati Reds, was named manager of the Toronto Maple Leafs of the International League succeeding Burleigh Grimes.

Herb Brett, who managed Raleigh, N. C., to two straight Carolina League pennants, was named manager of Wichita, Kan., of the Western League.

Stan Walch Letters In Football at Kenyon

GAMBIER, O.—William Stanley Walch of Sedalia, a sophomore at Ohio's Kenyon College, was awarded a varsity football letter at a recent college assembly. Stan, son of Harry W. Walch, 711 West Broadway, is also active on the golf team.

KICKOFF—Vern Gagne opened his Madison Square Garden wrestling match with Wait (Killer) Kowalski with an ungentlemanly kick in the face. The 275-pound Canadian caught on fast, learning the tricks so well that he was disqualified. (NEA)

SQUEEZE PLAY—Ollie Cline gained 15 yards for Detroit taking pass from Bobby Layne before Woodley Lewis, right, and Bud McFadin of the Rams put on this squeeze play before record 93,751 at the Los Angeles Coliseum. The home team took the lead in the western division of the National League by winning, 37-24. (NEA)

Ivy League Tough With Closest Games

NEW YORK (AP)—Pipe down, you Texans! The nation's toughest college football league isn't your Southwest Conference. It's the Ivy League—and we have figures to prove it.

How? Well, as we see it, a "tough" league is one in which the teams are so closely matched that it's difficult to win any game. And an analysis of this year's scores shows that fits the Ivy group.

For years the fans have rightly regarded the Southwest Conference as a league in which competition really was rugged. Sure, there aren't any "breathers" in that round-robin schedule and the only "upset" is when a favored team wins just as expected.

But the figures show that in the Southwest—and most other conferences — the winning team often manages to roll up a one-sided score. But the Ivies, who have been content to accept a secondary role in "big time" football, went in for close spine-shivering finishes this year and that's "tough" for the teams that play, regardless of the quality of the football.

Look at Princeton's last-minute, 20-19 decision over Columbia, for instance; or those two thrillers on one afternoon when Yale beat Princeton 26-24 in the last few seconds and Cornell barely held off Dartmouth 28-26. Those weren't easy games for anybody.

The same statistics that put the Ivy League first in tight games give second rank to the Missouri Valley Conference and third to the Skyline Conference, with the Southwest in fifth place.

They were reached to averaging the number of points separating the winners and the losers in all conference or league games—the point spread, if use of that term still is permitted.

In the Ivy group, a total of 157 points separated the winners and the losers in 18 games. That's an average "spread" of 8.72 points a game. Only two games were decided by margins bigger than 14 points (Dartmouth 30, Yale 0, and Dartmouth 32, Princeton 12) and just two ended in ties.

In nine Missouri Valley Conference games the average difference was 10.55 points a game and in the Skyline Eight it was 11.42. At the other extreme, the average winning margin in Border Conference games was 24.22 points.

The Southeastern Conference, in which 8 of 39 games ended in ties, wound up with a 12.64 point average. The figures for other major conferences (using conference games only): Southwest, 13.24; Pacific Coast, 14.13; Big Seven, 15.62; Big Ten, 15.84; Atlantic Coast, 16.50; and Southern, 17.60.

Bobby Miller Breaks Leg In Game at Tipton

At the basketball game between Tipton and Jamestown Tuesday evening, at Tipton, Bobby Miller, a member of the Tipton team, fell and broke two bones just above his left ankle. He was given emergency treatment at Dr. C. F. Luebbert's Osteopathic Clinic and then taken by his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Leo Miller, to St. Joseph's Hospital, Boonville. Bobby is a sophomore.

To Manage Des Moines

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Catcher Les Peden of the Pacific Coast League's Los Angeles Angels has been assigned to Des Moines in the Western League as player-manager, it was announced today.

He succeeds Bruce Edwards, also a catcher, who returns to the Chicago Cubs, parent team of both Des Moines and Los Angeles.

Norman Hayes Back to Army After Defeat

DETROIT (AP) —Boston middleweight Norman Hayes went back to army life today, apparently finished as a fighter until Uncle Sam gives him his discharge.

Fighting on a three-day pass, Hayes was soundly whipped by Garth Panter of Salt Lake City in a nationally televised 10-rounder at Olympia Stadium last night.

Immediately following the fight, Hayes was suspended by the Michigan State boxing board of control.

At first, the boxing commission sent word around the ring that Hayes was suspended for "inept performance" as well as "poor condition." Later, it amended this to just "poor condition."

Michigan Commissioner Floyd Stevens said the suspension would be effective in all 48 states.

"We're suspending Hayes as a protection and won't lift it until he's in condition to fight," Stevens said. "His manager, John Buckley, assues me Hayes won't fight again until he's out of the army."

The general feeling among sports writers covering the fight was that Hayes didn't put up a good showing but that he did his best considering the conditions. He's been in the army seven months and his last fight was May 21.

Buckley said he agreed to the fight after Hayes told him in a telephone conversation that he was in good shape.

Hayes, dejected, said after the fight:

"I just couldn't get started. I've got to have another chance to prove to these people that there's nothing wrong with me."

It was a unanimous decision for Panter, who posted his 53rd victory against 12 losses and two draws.

It was Hayes' 10th loss in his last 12 fights, making his record, 22-17-1. He weighed 162½ to 160 for Panter. A crowd of only 1,813 paid a gross of $3,252.60.

Woman Bowler Rolls Blistering 758 Series

DETROIT (AP) — Ann Setlock, 29-year-old Detroit lathe operator, burned up the bowling lanes here last night with a blistering 758 series total for the highest series in Women's International Bowling Congress competition this year.

Miss Setlock put together games of 194, 287 and 277 for what is also the fifth highest series in the 63-year history of the WIBC. The series card showed 25 strikes, 7 spares and a single miss.

All-State High Football Team Named Today

SPRINGFIELD (AP) — Don Hawkins, Portageville quarterback, is the first player ever named two years in succession on the all-state high school football team selected by the Missouri Sportswritersand Sportscasters association.

Hawkins led Portageville through another unbeaten season this year.

The 1953 all-star team, announced yesterday by Jim Chemi, Association secretary, included three players chosen unanimously. They were Frank Czapla, St. Louis McKinley; Mervin Johnson, King City, and John Stout, Poplar Bluff.

Tipton's 15th Annual Tourney Dec. 8 to 12

On Dec. 8-12 Tipton High School will hold its 15th annual Invitational Basketball Tournament. There are 12 teams entered in this year's classic, and from early season indications there is promise of some fine basketball, reports the home coach, C. M. White.

Top seeded teams are California, Eldon, St. Peters, and School of the Osage. The opening game of the tournament will pit Eldon against New Bloomfield. Both teams have run up large scores in games played to date, and this first one should be a natural. Other games on opening night will see the Tipton Cardinals against a strong Jamestown five, and the last game will be between California and Hughesville.

Coach White reports that the sessions will begin each evening at 6:30, with semi-finals in both championship and consolation brackets Saturday morning and afternoon. The Tipton High School band will play at several sessions during the tournament and the Pep Club will be out in full force to cheer their team.

Beautiful trophies to be given for first, second, third and consolation are on display at the Tipton Farmers Bank.

Irish May Be Surprised By SMU Play

SOUTH BEND, Ind. (AP)—Unbeaten Notre Dame may be in for some surprises in Saturday's football finale, says Irish scout Johnny Druze, who has been spying on Southern Methodist.

Druze is certain that the national television audience and the capacity crowd of 55,000 at Notre Dame Stadium will see a sensational, wide-open game.

"When those Texans make up their minds to do something they usually succeed," said Druze, a fellow not accustomed to talking with tongue in cheek.

"SMU has nothing to lose in this last game of the season and a great deal to gain by knocking us off. This in itself is a healthy situation for them.

"We've always found out in the past that we can expect anything from SMU. Maybe I can throw away my scouting reports. They undoubtedly will throw stuff at us that they have been saving all season and no one has seen.

"We can expect spread, formations, although I haven't seen them use one yet. They have backs who can be used in all kinds of combinations, although basically it's a tight T formation club with split T variations.

The Mustangs uncorked 45 passes to beat Notre Dame 27-20 in 1951, their last meeting. But SMU under Coach Woody Woodard, is supposed to have a "new look" of a predominantly running team. They compiled a 5-4 record this season.

"They run well, but they also have a half dozen backs who can pass, including sophomore Hal O'Brien, a southpaw," Druze said. "And they have a good defensive club, anchored by Don Goss, a 6-4 tackle who is listed at 245 pounds but is actually 270.

"This Goss is like a bird. He has great agility for a big guy, moving along the line with a knack of being at the right place on a play."

Although Durze would not admit it, Notre Dame also is expected to come up with some new stuff that could entail a lot of passing.

29 Top Pros At International Golfing In Cuba

HAVANA (AP)—The Havana Country Club's International Golf Tournament drew 29 of the top United States professionals today for the next to last chance for 1953 prize money.

Defending champion Dutch Harrison of Ardmore, Okla., took one look at the field and said:

"I don't think I'll be able to win this year."

Some of Harrison's colleagues promptly dubbed him "the doleful drawler" and observed he is only a year older than last year when he won the tournament with a 17 under par 271. Par for the Havana course is 37-35—72.

There are 31 pros in all, including two from Havana, participating in the three-day pro-amateur tournament. Art Wall of Pocono Manor, Pa., is scheduled to tee off first.

Each pro plays with two amateurs three days or 54 holes. On Sunday the pros add up their three-day scores and play 18 holes more to decide who gets what part of the $15,000 prize money. Harrison said he thought maybe Jim Demaret of Kiamesha Lake, N. Y., looked like a good bet to win.

The first half-dozen money winners among the pros are entered. They include Lew Worsham, No. 1, and Doug Ford, No. 2, on the money-winning list. Other entries number Marty Furgol, Walter Burkemo and Julius Boros.

Employers Hear Rules For Teen-agers

Employers who hire teen-age boys and girls, seeking temporary and part-time jobs during the Christmas holiday season, were reminded today that they are subject to the child labor provisions of the Fair Labor Standards Act, commonly known as the Federal Wage and Hour Law, if they work in establishments shipping merchandise or producing goods for interstate commerce.

This reminder was issued by Walter W. King, regional director of the U. S. Labor Department's wage and hour and public contracts division in Colodaro, Iowa, Kansas, Missouri Nebraska North Dakota, South Dakota and Wyoming

King pointed out that employees working in central warehouses servicing several stores operated by retail establishments may also be covered by the child labor minimum wage and overtime provisions of the Act.

In all establishments engoged in interstate commerce a 16-year minimum applies to work in general occupation and a inimum age of 18 applies to hazardous occupations such as motor vehicle drivers or helpers, elevator operators, the operation of power-driven woodcutting machines and offbearing; jobs involving exposure to radioactive substances; occupations included in the operation of punch presses, shearing machines and power-driven metal forming equipment; jobs in or about slaughtering or meat-packing establishments or rendering plants, and in occupations involvig the operatio of power-driven bakery machines such as dough mixers, batter mixers, bread dividers and cake and cookie cutting machines.

"Growing boys and girls usually benefit from suitable vacation jobs that provide constructive experience." King declared. "When hiring young workers special care should be exercised to see that they do not work in unhealthy surroundings, nor in taks that are not suitable to their strength," he said.

He pointed out that the child labor provisions of the Wage and Hour Law permit the employment of 14 and 15 year olds in certain non-manufacturing jobs such as office work, but they may not be employed for more than 8 hours a day or 40 hours in a week when schools are closed, nor more than 3 hours a day or 18 hours a week when schools are in session. In addition, the employment of these 14 and 15 year old children is limited to the hours between 7 a. m. and 7 p. m.

King urged employers to contact the Divisions' offices for reliable information concerning Federal child labor laws. The nearest office is located at Room 600, Federal Office Building, Kansas City.

FBI Seeks 2 Men Who Kidnaped Georgia Woman

COLUMBUS, Ga. (AP) — Pretty Mrs. Gloria Bullock Weaver, 22, mother of an infant son, is safe at home today and FBI agents are hunting for two men accused of kidnaping her.

Found unharmed on a downtown street near the Chattahoochee River bridge last night, she said she was released by her kidnapers on the Alabama side of the bridge.

Her husband Arthur, a building contractor, spotted her on the Georgia side of the river shortly after she telephoned home from a drugstore near where she was released.

Mrs. Weaver said an unidentified man entered her home in her husband's absence Tuesday night and ordered her to an automobile parked outside. She said he did not use force.

She related that she and the man got into the back seat of the car with another unidentified man at the steering wheel. While one held her arms, the other blindfolded her with her own scarf, she said.

After a long ride, they came to a stop and she was put in a room of a house.

After darkness fell last night, she was driven to the outskirts of Phenix City, Ala., and released.

Weaver received a telephone call yesterday from an anonymous man who demanded $15,000 for her return. No ransom was paid.

The FBI took charge of the investigation.

REUNION IN VIENNA

Camera Records Heart-Stirring Scenes as the Prisoners Long Held In Russian Prisons and Camps Return Home

Joy and sorrow, smiles and tears, hope and despair all mingled in starkest drama when 600 Austrian prisoners of war were finally released from Russian prisons and reached Vienna. Their hunger for home and their families' hunger for them are recorded in these remarkable photographs, taken under the direction of the U.S. Information Agency.

Faces—tense faces, highlighted with anxiety—scan the incoming prisoners with unspoken prayers for the sight of a long-lost loved one.

A wife's tears of joy fall on the shoulder of this beaming prisoner as their little girl watches. Less fortunate ones desperately hold up photos of their lost ones, hoping some prisoner will recognize the face and tell the fate of the missing man.

Suffering from shock, helpless as a baby, this returned prisoner sits in slack-jawed apathy as a Red Cross worker feeds him.

As his wife, at right, is torn between smiles and tears, this repatriated Austrian tightly grips his daughter and grandson. Looking on is his son-in-law.

Ike Answers Dad Who Made a Plea For Canal Fence

OAKLAND, Calif. (AP)—A 3-year-old boy drowned in an irrigation canal near here two weeks ago. It was the 33rd drowning in the Contra Costa Canal in 10 years.

So little Joe Anderson's father Warren wrote to President Eisenhower:

"I want to build a fence for my boy, Joe. There's an unfenced canal that meanders through our county here in California. We live just a few yards from it and it's a danger to our children.

"I can't fence it, nor can any of my neighbors, because it belongs to our government. That's why I'm writing to you . . . The canal is your responsibility, Mr. President."

Anderson said he wanted the fence to prevent other boys falling in.

The canal is part of the Central Valley project of the U. S. Bureau of Reclamation.

Yesterday, a relative of Anderson disclosed the President had replied:

"Rarely have I been so touched by any letters as by yours of the 20th. Mrs. Eisenhower and I lost our first—and then only son—when he was 3½ years old. I am keenly aware of the sense of total loss that must engulf you."

The President said he was sending Anderson's letter to the Department of the Interior and "certainly I hope that through some proper way steps can be taken to see that this kind of tragedy is not repeated in the future."

Missouri Telephone Co. Gets OK On Rate Hike

JEFFERSON CITY (AP)—Missouri Telephone Co. has been granted authority to increase its rates next July by an estimated $152,000 a year.

The company, with central offices in Columbia, also serves customers in and around Macon, Centralia, Clark, Queen City and Sturgeon.

It had asked for an increase of $262,000 a year but the Missouri Public Service Commission turned that down as too high.

The delayed date for the increase was set in order to require the utility to complete most of its planned improvements before the added revenue is allowed.

Included in the program are expansions of the office facilities in Macon and Columbia, conversion of the Centralia, Clark and Sturgeon operations to dial service and improvements and expansions of present lines in the operating area.

Highway Engineer Will Preserve Block Of Original Highway

TRENTON, N. J. (AP)—State Highway Engineer Edward W. Kilpatrick, ordinarily all business, today revealed he is as sentimental as the rest of us.

His department is going to widen and repave a section of Route 24—the first concrete highway ever built in New Jersey. It would mean burying the last bit of the original concrete, laid down in 1912.

"That's a little more than I could reconcile myself to," said Kilpatrick, and ordered a five-foot square of the old concrete cut out and saved. It will be set into the new pavement at the surface for all to see.

Kilpatrick was an engineer for the contracting firm that built the road 40 years ago.

License Sales Reach Record On First Day

JACKSON, Mich. (AP) — Opening day sales of 1954 auto license plates set a record here. More than 1,000 showed up.

Sheridan Hadley Jackson, manager of the secretary of state's branch office, said some of those in line told him they were unemployed and wanted to buy their plates before their money ran out.

Gardener Is Fatally Shot On Marine Base During Flag Argument

SAN DIEGO, Calif. (AP)—A civilian gardener was shot and killed at the San Diego Marine Corps Recruit Depot yesterday, reportedly in a dispute with a guard over observance of flag-raising ceremonies.

A military court of inquiry was told that Irving V. Lefever, 27, employed at the depot, was shot by Pfc L. C. Camp, who was guarding four Marine prisoners at the time.

Deputy County Coroner Oliver M. Ladd said testimony disclosed there was an argument over how the civilian should conduct himself during the flag ceremony.

Murderess Is Allowed To See Arizona State Fair Under Guard

PHOENIX, Ariz. (AP)—Trunk murderess Winnie Ruth Judd, inmate at the Arizona State Hospital for Insane, was permitted to attend the Arizona State Fair here last month, it was disclosed yesterday.

Dr. M. W. Conway, hospital superintendent, said Mrs. Judd was kept under close guard and she went unrecognized.

Mrs. Judd, who six times has escaped the institution, has been in low spirits since her mother died in the same hospital last month, Dr. Conway said.

Talbott Says US Tries To Win Bloodless War By Show of Strength

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Air Force Secretary Harold E. Talbott said yesterday America is "trying to win a war without fighting" by becoming "so strong no one will dare attack us."

Talbott, in an address before the Pennsylvania Society of Sons of the Revolution, said he didn't know, however, "how long we will have to maintain that situation."

Talbott said the United States has built up a strong home defense with "50 bases where defense aircraft can be in the air in three minutes."

Would Honor Private 'Forgotten' On Duty

FRANKFURT, Germany (AP)—U. S. Army authorities have recommended a commendation for a private who stuck to his post for a week after the Army forgot him.

The soldier, Pvt. Raymond L. Cote of Saco, Maine, was assigned to guard pontoons near the small Hessian village of Ginsheim during maneuvers last October.

"Somebody slipped up and he was not relieved," an Army official here said today.

For a week Cote stayed on guard. At night he bedded down in the open in a sleeping bag. Worried Germans living nearby fed him sandwiches.

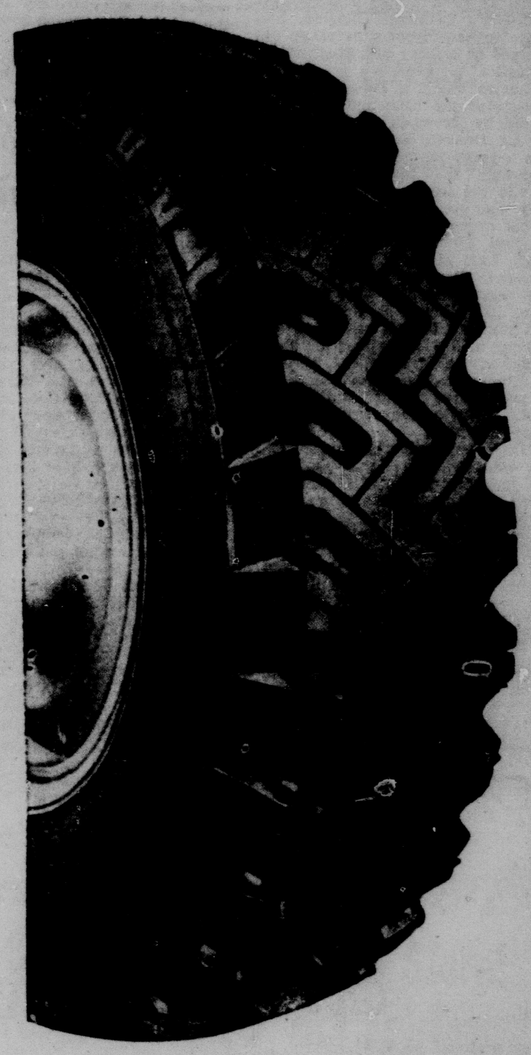

Cote stayed on until members of his unit returned seven days after they left him.

Says 19 FBI Men Aided Denver Case

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Justice Department, denying laxity or refusal to aid in a Denver grand jury tampering case, says 19 FBI agents aided in the investigation.

U.S. District Judge Willis W. Ritter had said last week that the department had refused to assist in an inquiry into jury tampering by Denver gamblers. The judge, then sitting in Denver, could not be reached last night at his home in Salt Lake City.

The Justice Department statement late yesterday did not mention the judge but referred to a "political discussion" of the case—an obvious reference to a discussion of it by Clayton Fritchey, deputy chairman of the Democratic National Committee.

Fritchey, in a television appearance Sunday, declared that Atty. Gen. Brownell reopened the controversial Harry Dexter White case, in part, to divert attention from "a serious situation within the Justice Department." He mentioned Judge Ritter's remarks.

Asst. Atty. Gen. Warren Olney III took note of comments that the Denver case "had been in some way mishandled," and he declared: "There is no substance to this assertion."

Olney said he issued the statement, as head of the Justice Department's Criminal Division, because he had direct supervision on charges of bribery and obstruction of justice.

Charles Vigil, a Democrat who prosecuted the case and who was ousted by Brownell as U.S. attorney at Denver about the time it was completed, said "no one is disputing" that the FBI played a part in the case.

He had said earlier that some of his requests for FBI aid were rejected by the Justice Department. Last night, Vigil told a reporter in Denver: "I don't know how many agents were on the case. Just where FBI help started and stopped, I can't say now."

Olney said one phase of the case began with a tip last Sept. 17 that an attempt had been made to bribe a prospective juror and ended Sept. 24 with the arrest of all those involved.

"This record clearly shows," Olney went on, "that this phase of the jury tampering charge originated with the Federal Bureau of Investigation, was fully investigated by the Bureau of Investigation, indictments were returned on the basis of the investigation and testimony of the Federal Bureau of Invesgitation, and all defendants have been convicted of all charges so far brought to trial."

It once survived being clawed out of the tank by a cat. That alone should make kitty feel humble.

Ex-POWs Tell Tale of Torture And Heroism In Reds' Camps

WASHINGTON (AP)—Seven more Korean War veterans, witnesses to Communist atrocities, were called today to tell their stories in public.

Sen. Potter (R-Mich), presiding at the Senate hearings, said they would help pinpoint a pattern of Communist brutality and torture.

Men and officers who were left as dead by Korean Communists unfolded a gruesome story of personal heroism and survival at the opening sessions yesterday before Potter's one-man Senate investigations subcommittee.

After listening to these accounts, Potter said the Korean War may prove to be "the most courageous" chapter in American military history.

Gen. Matthew B. Ridgway, Army chief of staff and former commander in Korea, said evidence showed a "studied and calculated course of criminal misconduct" by Communist leaders "to exterminate prisoners of war in one way or another."

As a result, he said, American soldiers now will get tougher training "for their sake and for their country's honor and integrity."

The hearings were timed to strengthen support for the resolution now pending before the United Nations Assembly to condemn such atrocities.

Lt. Col. Jack Todd, head of an Army commission collecting data on Korean War criminals, was the leadoff witness today. On hand to follow him were these Korean veterans: Sgt. Wendell Treffery of Terryville, Conn.; Sgt. Berry F. Rhoden of Mac Clenny, Fla.; Sgt. George J. Matta, Brockton, Mass.; Capt. Linton B. Buttrey, Nashville, Tenn.; Cpl. Willie L. Daniels of Oakland, Calif.; and Charles Kenard, now a civilian living in Florida.

Hal Boyle's Column—

People Not Only Drive People Batty, But Their Pets As Well

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP)—Does your dog brood? Well, stop him. That way lies madness.

Civilized dogs and cats are getting more neurotic all the time. The main trouble? It's people. Modern people not only drive each other batty. They do the same thing to their pets.

"People drive 50 per cent of their pets neurotic by lack of understanding," said William Hall, a former management engineer turned animal psychologist.

His conclusions on the mental relationship between pets and people are based on the study of thousands of animals in his laboratory at Coral Gables, Fla.

"Any pet reflects its home," he said. "We can take a dog in our laboratory and quickly tell, in part simply by the way it wags its tail, the general mental health of its owners. We can even tell whether the husband or wife is dominant in the home—and how dominant."

A frustrated animal, Hall has found, usually is the product of frustrated people. He feels the frustration in both the pet and its owner stems from the same cause—an ego-deflating boredom that raises from a feeling of lack of accomplishment.

"We are all extroverts—we like to feel we are doing something worthwhile," he said. "A busy person rarely gets in trouble—and neither does a busy animal.

"A civilized pet has too much leisure, too much time to brood. It has surplus energy it must get rid of somehow. So, unless its owner understands this and gives it something to do that satisfies it, it becomes neurotic, bites people, chews up rugs or tears up the furniture."

Fortunately, the average dog, cat or parakeet doesn't have to write a novel, climb Mt. Everest or get elected to public office in order to gain a feeling of victory out of life.

"The right kind of toy will stimulate and satisfy him," Hall said. "But the big mistake pet owners make is to pick out a toy that pleases them more than it does their pet—an error parents also often make in selecting toys for their children."

"A toy should satisfy a pet's extrovert needs. A parakeeet, for example, is very vain. A mirror makes a nice toy for him, because he is happy to perch before it and admire his own reflection for hours."

Hall found that dogs like toys that make a noise or have a taste, such as slippers with a built-in crackle when chewed, a rubber cat's head with a bell inside, a rubber bone impregnated with chocolate flavor," Hall said. On the other hand cats, unlike women, go wild, simply wild, over anything with catnip in it.

"We haven't been able to find any flavor cats like better than catnip itself," Hall said. "It seems to act on them like reefer cigaettes do on humans. They go crazy over it."

But his advice is—if you want to be a real Santa Claus to your pet—take it to the pet store and let it sniff out its own Christmas present.

"Let it pick out its own toys, as if it were a child," he said, "and it won't get bored, frustrated or neurotic."

Could even save you money. It costs real dough today to send your dog to a canine psychiatrist and have him listen to it bark out its mental problems.

Vishinsky Is Invited To 'Defend Himself' Before House Group

NEW YORK (AP)—Andrei Vishinsky, Soviet deputy foreign minister has been invited to appear before a House committee and "defend himself" on the issue of Russian seizure of three Baltic nations.

Last Tuesday Alfred Derzins, former Latvian cabinet member, said in Washington that Vishinsky was in charge when Russia took over his country, Lithuania and Estonia.

Derzins told his story to a special House committee headed by Rep. Kersten (R-Wis). The committee was set up to investigate the Soviet seizure of the Baltic nations.

The committee opens public hearings today.

Green Ridge Students See Artist's Show

By Mrs. Verna Palmer

GREEN RIDGE — Ben Hammond, artist and cartoonist, recently presented an educational program at the Green Ridge school. He gave a demonstration of marionettes and illustrated a poem in chalk. He also showed the various methods and principles of cartooning. He concluded the program with a demonstration of ventriloquism.

Mr. Hammond is affiliated with the Kansas University which sponsors educational programs for schools.

The schools of Green Ridge Reorganized District R-VIII were dismissed Thursday and Friday for the Thanksgiving vacation. Classes were resumed Monday morning.

The senior class of Green Ridge High School is taking orders for the high school annual, the Tiger.

This year the annual queen will be chosen by popular vote from among the 12 girls of the senior class.

The following FFA boys of Green Ridge High School, accompanied by their teacher, Robert Denker, went to Warrensburg Nov. 16: Morris Hinken, Russell Harbit, George Titsworth and Robert Upton.

They attended a meeting of the officers from 16 FFA chapters from surrounding schools. Group meetings were led by state officers, and two panel discussions were supervised by them.

Last week Terry Yunt, Linda Brown and Joe Morgan, pupils of the primary room, celebrated their birthdays with a party at school. Their mothers, Mrs. Harold Yunt, Mrs. Coy Brown and Mrs. Leon Morgan, took refreshments to school for all the pupils in the room and enjoyed an hour with the children and their teacher, Miss Grace Still.

Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Carlson and children, Albert, Donald and Elise, of Berryton, Kan., spent the Thanksgiving holidays visiting Mr. Carlson's parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Carlson, and with his brother, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Carlson and children, Clifford, Patricia, Betty, Kay, Jimmy and Anita.

Mr. and Mrs. C. J. Chatman and children, Virginia, Glen Dale and Gayle, of DeWitte, Mo., spent Sunday visiting Mr. and Mrs. Walter Pottorff and family, south of Green Ridge.

Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Eby and three children moved from the Coy Spry residence to the Howard Burton residence property last Wednesday, where they will make their home.

The third car load of drought hay was received in Green Ridge last Tuesday via the MKT railroad.

The hay was consigned to the Poppinga brothers who reside northeast of Green Ridge. The hay was shipped from Rice Lake, Wis.

Mrs. Millard Edmundson and son, Gary, near Green Ridge, left last Wednesday for Edgerton, Kan., where they spent the Thanksgiving holidays as guests of her mother, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Ortorf.

Miss Mary Kyd, St. Louis, was in Green Ridge to attend the funeral services of R. C. Kyd, Des Moines, Ia., which were held at the Presbyterian Church Saturday afternoon, Nov. 21.

Junior Spry, Edwards, Mo., was a recent guest of his uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. Coy Spry and family at their home here.

Junior was enroute to his home at Edwards. He had recently arrived in the U. S. from Korea, where he served 15 months in the Army.

Bill Ridenour who recently arrived from Korea to spend a furlough with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Guy Ridenour and family, at their home in Green Ridge, will report to Camp Carson, Colo., Dec. 10 for re-assignment. Bill has served two years of his three-year enlistment.

Mr. and Mrs. George Reed were hosts at a dinner on Sunday recently, honoring their grandson, Clyde H. Helphrey, Jr., Ft. Leonard Wood, who will be leaving soon for overseas duty with the Army.

Others present were Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Egbert, Windsor, Miss Marjorie Helphrey, Sedalia, and Mr. and Mrs. James Reed and three sons, Green Ridge.

Freezing Cranberries

Cranberries are plentiful on the market and may be purchased at a good price. Now is the time to buy a quantity and freeze them for future use.

To freeze cranberries — discard stems and imperfect berries. Wash. Pack wet in locker containers. Do not add sugar or sirup.

Canning Pork, Beef, Veal and Lamb

Processing in a pressure canner is the only method recommended for the canning of meat and all other low-acid foods. It is a safer method than processing in the water bath and saves time, energy and fuel.

If a pressure canner is not available and you wish to take the risk involved in canning in a water bath, make sure the water is in a rolling boil throughout the processing period.

Process 4 times as long in a water bath as the time given for the pressure canner when the processing time is less than 60 minutes. If more than 60 minutes, multiply the number of minutes given by 3.

Later, when you use the meat be absolutely sure it is boiled before being tasted.

If meat has soiled spots, wipe them with a clean, damp cloth. Wash only bloody meat as part of the flavor and food value will be washed away with the water. Cut the meat from the bone and leave only enough fat for good flavor. Cut the tender cuts of meat in nice sized servings and the less tender cuts in small pieces desirable for stews, creamed dishes, etc. All pieces are handled and processed the same way.

Save all bones and trimmings for soup and soup stocks.

Hot Pack

Heat the meat in the oven or on top of the stove. Use a shallow flat bottomed pan with well fitted lid. Add just enough water to keep the meat from sticking and heat until it is hot through.

Pack firmly in clean hot jars to within 1 inch of the top. Add ½ to 1 teaspoon of salt to each jar of meat. Cover with meat juice or broth. Use boiling water to get all the juice from the pan. Finish with boiling water if extra liquid is needed. Leave one inch at top of all glass jars. Work out air bubbles with a long, narrow, flexible knife or spatula.

Add more liquid if needed to keep meat covered but leave one inch head space. Adjust lid. Process pint jars 75 minutes, quart jars 90 minutes at 10 pounds pressure (240 degrees F. in pressure canner).

Chocolate Cake for the Freezer

Chocolate Cake baked by your favorite recipe may be a big disappointment after it is stored in the home freezer — but don't blame the freezer. Research has shown that freezing is a convenient way to preserve cakes which are among the most perishable baked products. Researchers point out that cake recipes need to be developed especially for freezing. Some ingredients used for excellent freshly baked cakes are not suitable for cake that is to be frozen. Tests with chocolate cake showed that the kind of fat used affects the flavor, moisture and freshness of a cake baked and then frozen. Chocolate cakes containing some butter were superior to those made with lard or vegetable shortening alone. Most satisfactory was a combination of butter and vegetable shortening. Baked cakes may be frozen in aluminum or paper baking pans, then closely wrapped with moisture - vapor - proof wrapping or aluminum foil. Or they may be removed from pans and then wrapped. Tests showed that chocolate cake should not be stored longer than 4 months in a freezer at zero Fahrenheit. Baked frozen cakes gradually developed a firm, crumbly texture in contrast to the fluffy springy texture of cake just out of the oven.

Cabbage Rolls

½ pound hamburger
8 large cabbage leaves
½ cup cooked rice
1 egg
1 teaspoon salt
¼ teaspoon pepper
2 tablespoons chopped onion
2 tablespoons fat
½ cup cooked tomatoes or catsup
¼ cup chopped onion
1 bay leaf (optional)
4 whole cloves (Optional)

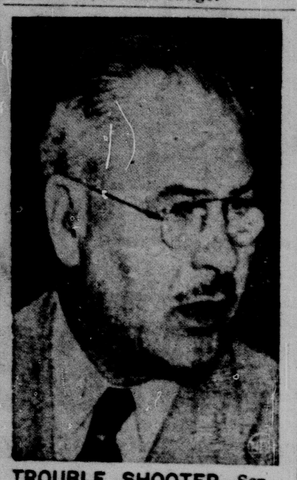

Cook cabbage leaves in salted water for 5 minutes.

Combine hamburger, rice, salt, pepper and onion. Brown lightly in hot fat.

Add tomatoes, onion, bay leaf, and cloves.

Cover and simmer 45 minutes (may be cooked in slow oven).

TROUBLE SHOOTER—Sen. Robert C. Hendrickson, of New Jersey, and his committee investigating juvenile delinquency are in sympathy with a proposed National Institute on Delinquency to battle wrongdoings by youngsters. The five-year plan, costing some $100 million would be financed largely or entirely with federal funds.

Piltdown Proved a Hoax, Now Evolution Is Back In Place

NEW YORK (AP)—Now that "Piltdown" has been exposed as a hoax, where does man stand in his knowledge about evolution.

The answer: just about where he did before that famous fossil skull was found to be a fraud.

In fact, the exposure clears the air. Physical anthropologists have been viewing Piltdown with skepticism for years.

When the pieces of skull and jawbone were found in an English gravel pit near the Sussex village of Piltdown between 1912 and 1915 some scientists concluded they were parts of the same creature who lived anywhere from 50,000 to 500,000 years ago.

On the basis of evidence then at hand, Piltdown seemed to them to be either a superior type of sub-human or a sub-normal type of true human. Yet his head was curiously different from those of other pre-historic men found in various parts of the world. He was a puzle in the whole evolutionary picture.

Dr. Harry Shapiro, head of the department of anthropology of the American Museum of Natural History, says Piltdown "never was consistent with other data. He was out of line chronologically. His removal, instead of weakening, in effect strengthens our knowledge of the evolutionary process."

Prof. Ernst A. Hooton of Harvard, one of the world's most famous anthropologists, says the hoax "doesn't disturb our ideas of human evolution at all. If it is right that the head is a fake, it loses all its significance and removes a very puzzling link."

In England, Piltdown's time-stained skull and ape-like jawbone have become the butt of cartoonist's jibes and comedians' jokes. In this country some fundamentalist churchmen, who maintain that man was created in his present image about 6,000 years ago, have used the Piltdown hoax as a lever to pry at the whole theory of evolution.

Actually, scientists say the only disservice that possibly could come from exposure of the Piltdown fake would be widespread skepticism about other important discoveries of mankind's vestigial past.

People usually bandy the phrase "man came from monkeys." Most authorities today agree there are five families in that part of the living animal kingdom to which man belongs—the human family, the great anthropoids, the small anthropoids, the old world monkeys and the new world monkeys. All developed from the same stem hundreds of thousands of years ago, which is quite a different thing from saying "man came from monkeys."

In the study of mankind's evolution through fossils the most important discovery was made in Java in 1892 by a young Dutch physician, Eugene DuBois. He found the famous Java Man skull—an ape man twice the size of a gorilla who prowled the volcanoed slopes of ancient Java possibly 750,000 years ago, a real missing link between ape and man.

About the same period another giant peered out of a cave near modern Peking. Imagine a 1,000-pound brute with over-size jaw and under-size brain, even bigger and tougher than Java Man. His fossil remains were discovered in 1929 by Franz Weidenreich, who—incidentally—was convinced that Piltdown was a phony.

A third giant was added to this company in 1948 when Robert Bloom, a renowned anthropologist, found its petrified remains in South Africa.

It is interesting to recall the Book of Genesis: "There were giants in the earth in those days."

In 1921 the remains of Rhodesian Man were found in northern Rhodesia. Far down the evolutionary chain from the giants, he lived from 20,000 to 40,000 years ago. He stands as an ancestral type to modern man, about five feet 10 and stoutly built. But his brain space was small, his face reminds you of a gorilla's.

Since World War II, paleontologists have been aided in some phases of their work by fluorine testing.

With advances in methods of fluorine testing Piltdown recently underwent his final examination. Then the world learned that fragments of the cranium are genuine remains of a primitive man but the jaw is from a modern ape and deliberately faked.

What's the Secret?

Why are cakes made with Duncan Hines Mixes so moist, so tender, so much like the finest homemade cakes that experts (and friends) can't tell them apart?

The Answer is Simple!

❶ Duncan Hines' knowledge of food and recipes. ❷ Duncan Hines' insistence on use of the finest ingredients... and ❸ the fact that you use your own FRESH EGGS!

Duncan Hines AMERICA'S FOREMOST AUTHORITY ON GOOD EATING says:

"No good cook would think of using dried eggs in her prized recipes, and yet factory-dried powdered eggs are the only kind that can be put right into a cake mix package. That's why I ask you to add your own fresh eggs. And that's why—when you use Duncan Hines Cake Mix and your own fresh eggs—you're guaranteed a fresher, bigger cake—better in appearance, freshness and flavor... or your money back."

Julekake Is Norwegian Bread Made to Serve at Christmas

NORWEGIAN JULEKAKE is made by Americans of Norwegian descent at Christmas time. It is filled with fruit.

BY GAYNOR MADDOX
NEA Food and Markets Editor

"Gladelig Jul" (Merry Christmas) is what Americans of Norwegian descent say on Christmas Day. Mrs. Hanna Falk of St. Paul, Minn., celebrates Christmas in the tradition of her native country, Norway. She begins her holiday baking early.

She has 10 large cookie jars filled to the brim with a variety of Norwegian holiday sweets — Fattigmands, deep-fat fried cookies; Sandbakkelse, cookie tarts; Berlinerkranser, cookie wreaths, rosettes and rich oatmeal cookies.

With the cookies there's always a batch of fresh - baked yeast breads, for Christmas just isn't complete in a Norwegian household without the traditional rich fruit bread called Julekake. It keeps moist for a full week. Here is Mrs. Falk's recipe for this traditional Christmas bread:

Julekake
(One 9-inch round loaf)

One cup scalded milk, ½ cup sugar, ½ teaspoon salt, ½ teaspoon powdered cardamom, 2 packages or 2 cakes dry or compressed yeast, 2-3 cup rolled oats (quick or old - fashioned, uncooked), 2 tablespoons shortening, soft, 1 egg, 2¾ to 3 cups sifted enriched flour, 1 cup chopped citron, ½ cup chopped candied cherries, ½ cup raisins.

Cool milk to lukewarm. Mix together milk, sugar, salt and cardamom in large bowl; stir until sugar is dissolved. Sprinkle or crumble the yeast into the liquid and let stand until softened. Add rolled oats and let stand about 5 minutes. Stir in shortening and egg. Add about half the flour and all the fruit and mix well. Add enough more flour to make a soft dough.

Turn dough out on lightly floured board and knead until satiny, about 10 minutes. Place in greased bowl; brush lightly with melted shortening; cover and let rise in a warm place until double in bulk, about 1 hour.

Punch down; turn over and let rise again until double. Punch down; turn out on lightly floured board and let rest 10 minutes. Form into a ball and place in a greased 9-inch round pan. Cover and let rise until double in bulk, about 45 minutes.

Brush top with slightly beaten egg. Bake in a moderate oven (350 degrees F.) for 40 to 45 minutes. Remove from pan at once.

Present Pins To Otterville 4-H Leaders

By Miss Cora Cordry

OTTERVILLE — Mr. and Mrs. Leo J. Smith, Mrs. Frank Yeager, Mrs. Sammy Potter and Mrs. D. C. Grochenour attended the 4-H leaders recognition dinner sponsored by the Cooper County Farm Bureau at the Frederick Hotel, Boonville, Monday evening. Leaders of the Otterville Club who were presented with leaders pins were: Mr. and Mrs. Sammy Potter, first year pink; Mrs. D. C. Gochenour, Clyde Paul, second year recognition; Mrs. Frank Yeager, third year pin; Mrs. Leo Cmith, who has been community leader of the club five years, received a five year pin.

This affair was planned by the rural youth division of the Home and Community Committee. The pins were presented by the Boonville Chamber of Commerce.

Members of the IOOF and Rebekah Lodges with their families had a pot luck supper at the recreation hall Thursday evening. Games under the direction of Mrs. Oliver Gochenour were played during the evening.

Mrs. Paul Wicker and family, who spent several weeks here with her mother, Mrs. Mary Bishop, returned to Kansas City with Mr. Wicker. Her mother accompanied them home.

Mr. and Mrs. Glen Fisher had as dinner guests Sunday Mr. and Mrs. Frank Thoss, Mr. and Mrs. Clint Akin, Fortuna.

Mrs. Lula Tidman has returned to Iowa Falls, Ia., following a week's visit with her daughter, Mr. and Mrs. James Wear.

Delivery Service

MILL HALL, Pa. (AP)—The Kiwanis Club of this Central Pennsylvania community has set up a "GG Pony Express" to operate in case there is a polio outbreak. Upon learning there was no way of getting Gamma Globulin—the polio preventive serum — from Philipsburg, 60 miles away, the local service club swung into action.

Now all a physician has to do when he needs GG is to contact one of the Club officials and a member will be dispatched to drive to Phillipsburg with authorization for the serum and deliver it to the physician.

Nelson Loses Two of Oldest Buildings

By Orpha Lee McCoy

NELSON—The town of Nelson is losing two of its oldest buildings. In 1887 Miss May Sappington built a two-story business house on Main Street. The lower floor was used as a drug store and upper floor as the Masonic Hall. Down through the years it has been used by various businesses, a hotel, grocery store and, at the last as a church for the Assembly of God congregation.

When the congregation acquired the old theatre building for their new church, they traded the building to John Lange, Sweet Springs, who has had it torn down. He is using the lumber to construct buildings on his farm.

In the same year, 1887, the railroad section men built a large eight-room, two-story house on Baker Street to be used as a hotel and later as a residence. It has been purchased by G. Ellis and he plans to tear it down and use the lumber to build two small homes on Baker Street. In the years 1880 to 1890 the saw mills were busy sawing native lumber for building of homes and the railroad. The population at that time was 99. In 1889 the new school, a two story building, was constructed and later was replaced by a one-story modern building with a large gymnasium. L. M. Nelson was the first superintendent.

In 1888 I. M. Verts and his brother came to Nelson from Virginia and owned and operated a a brick yard that was located between the school house and railroad tracks. I. M. Verts and ex-superintendent L. M. Nelson are now next door neighbors here.

Mrs. C. G. Mayfield is visiting Mr. and Mrs. Richard Renno and Dick, Wellington. From there she will go to Kansas City and visit Mr. and Mrs. Lyle Mayfield and to Independence to visit Mr. and Mrs. Bud Mayfield and Joyce.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Hickerson and granddaughter, Diana, Boonville, and Mr. and Mrs. Charles Marcum Sr., Blackwater, were Sunday guests of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Marcum Jr. and Nancy Kay.

The Baptist Ladies Aid Society had a bazaar and bake sale at the MFA store Wednesday.

The Rev. and Mrs. E. Raney Marshall, were dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. Rufus Jones.

Mr. and Mrs. John Thornton, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Thornton, Kansas City, Mr. and Mrs. James Thornton, Marshall, and their families visited their mother, Mrs. Sally Thornton, Sunday.

Sunday guests of Mr. and Mrs. Jess Dial were Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Cunningham, Mr. and Mrs. L. D. Moore and Mr. and Mrs. Bobby Tucker and family.

F. M. Elgin and grandchildren, Sharon and Jerry Templeton, Napton, spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Fred Guhl, Johnny and Freddie Henken.

Mr. and Mrs. Elwood Land, Marshall, spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Paul Barnes Sr., and Mr. and Mrs. Fred Cornine and Terry.

Mr. and Mrs. Wesley Slagle, Marshall, and Mr. and Mrs. R. K. Smith visited Mrs. Maggie Smith Sunday.

Mrs. T. M. Fowler and Miss Faye Parrish were Sunday dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. R. A. Holder. Mrs. Fowler, who has been ill, has now recovered and is able to resume her work at the grocery store.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Perkins and son and Doris Perkins were Sunday dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Howard and Dorothy, Marshall.

Mr. and Mrs. Dorsey Hutchison and family visited Wednesday evening with Mr. and Mrs. Herman Burky, Jamestown. Weedend guests of the Hutchisons were Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Simmons, Betty and James Cartner, Kansas City.

Mrs. Margaret Edwards, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Edwards, Kansas, spent last weekend with Mr. and Mrs. Lester White. Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Edwards and family Kansas City, spent last week with the Whites. Mr. and Mrs. Dale Hadley, Kansas City, were also recent guests.

Large crowds attended the Nelson invitational basketball tournament last week. The seniors sold pennants for all the schools in their colors.

Pear-Mincemeat Mixture Is Delicious Pie Filling

BY GAYNOR MADDOX

We have a friend in Seattle who certainly knows her winter pears. Her recipe for pear-mincemeat pie is definitely a Christmas recipe. Her little, quickie course on the ABCs of winter - pear varieties is worthy of your attention.

Pear-Mincemeat Pie

Two Anjou pears, diced, 2 cups prepared mincemeat, pastry for 2-crust pie, 9 inches.

Peel, core and dice Anjou pears. Add pears to mincemeat and mix together. Line pie pan with pastry. Fill with mincemeat - and - pear mixture. Cover with top crust. For a latticed effect cut pastry in strips and weave together on a piece of wax paper.

When completed gently press overlapping pastry strips together. To cover the pie, quickly invert the wax paper and remove from pastry. Press outside edges together and trim off excess pastry. Brush top of pastry with milk or cream for a golden brown glaze.

Bake at 425 degrees F. for 35 minutes. Remove from oven and serve warm or cold with hard sauce.

Anjou is pronounced "an-jo". The season for Anjou is from October to April or May. The flesh is firm but tender, very juicy and fine grained, spicy and with a rich flavor. The skin when ripe is smooth, creamy yellow.

Bosc is pronounced "bosk." The season is September until late December. The Bosc is a large pear with long, tapering neck and of a rich russet color. It has luscious buttery flesh.

The Comice, pronounced "comeece," is a large cone-shaped pear of a creamy yellow color when ripe, with a red blush. The Comice is perfection in a pear, having very fine-grained texture and sweet-tasting flesh with a delicate aroma. It's the holiday pear for holiday fruit trays and desserts and for colorful centerpieces and table decorations.

PEAR-MINCEMEAT LATTICE PIE is a succulent answer to dessert question during the holiday weeks ahead.

Rev. McGraw At Mt. Olivet Baptist Church

By Mrs. Charles Rank

CALHOUN—A large crowd attended the pie supper held recently at Roseland School. Over $40 was cleared and will be used for school supplies. Miss Virginia Sidebottom received the box of candy for the most popular girl.

Mrs. Link Doyle received word that her son-in-law the Rev. Darrance Boudreau had undergone surgery at a Kansas City hospital and becaause of his condition his wife, the former Virginia Doyle, was only allowed to visit him a few minutes each day.

E. Robinson and Mr. and Mrs. Charles Rank were those who visited the Air Base Sunday afternoon.

The Rev. and Mrs. W. B. McGraw, Warrensburg, were Sunday dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Cecil. In the afternoon the McGraws and the Cecils went to Clifton and visited Mrs. McGraw's son, Mr. and Mrs Kelso Journey and family. Rev. McGraw delivered the morning and evening message at Olivet Baptist Church.

Mr. and Mrs. Archie Robinson and John left Wednesday to visit their daughter and sister, Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Gary and Janice, Longmount, Colo. They spent the first night at the home of his sister, Mrs. Georgia Walker, Webb City.

Edwin Parks and Alfred Cecil attended a Henry County PMA meeting at Surprise School recently.

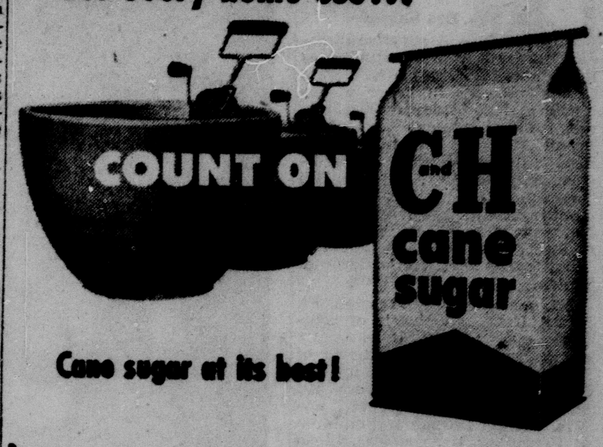

Mrs. Rolla Jones is visiting her brother, Olen Inloes and family, Salinos, Calif. She will also visit some former neighbors, Mr. and Mrs. H. O. Brooks, Sacramento.

Mrs. Glen Althoff attended a Red Cross home nursing class at the Henry County Courthouse, Clinton, last week. The object of these classes were to train the ladies as qualified instructors and they will conduct classes in their own communities. Fourteen ladies from different communities were enrolled.

Mine Machinery Loaded

OAKLAND, Calif. (AP) — A unique British ship, the Vercharmian, docked here to load an entire shipload of gear for a new and gigantic American iron ore project in Peru. The cargo will be lightered at San Juan Bay, Peru, for the Marcona Mining Company, an American corporation. The ship was especially built to haul locomotives, but the cargo loaded here included two unusually large Manitowoc shovels which required seven railroad cars each for transportation. The Marcona company will develop a large deposit of high grade iron ore.

He won't dive unless there's someone around to applaud.

WHAT A JOB—Since the abolition of capital punishment in Germany, there's been a shortage of anatomical material for schools and hospitals. To ease the problem, a small factory near Baden-Baden started a rapidly growing business making bones and skeletons out of plastic. Here a factory worker puts the finishing touch on one of the models.

No-Bake Fruit Cake Is Rich With Nuts and Tasty Fruit

BRAZIL NUT FRIUTCAKE, that requires no baking, will be the hit of the holiday season. May be made different ways.

BY GAYNOR MADDOX
NEA Food and Markets Editor

We had several no-bake, fruitcake recipes sent to us for testing. Only one was really good and had the right consistency. Here it is, rich with nuts, fruits and spices, fragrant and beautiful to look at. And it is quite inexpensive. It's worth trying.

No-Bake Brazil Nut Fruitcake

Three cups Brazil nuts (2 pounds unshelled, 1 pound shelled), 1 pound graham crackers, 1 pound seedless raisins, 1 cup (8 ounces), diced, mixed glazed fruit, one 8-ounce jar maraschino cherries, drained, 1 envelope unflavored gelatin, 1-3 cup orange juice, ½ cup sugar, 2-3 cup unsulphured molasses, 1 teaspoon vanilla, 1 tablespoon grated orange rind, ¼ teaspoon each cinnamon, nutmeg, cloves, ⅛ teaspoon each allspice, ginger.

Line a 9¼x5¼x2¾ - inch loaf pan, or 2 loaf pans 7¼x3½x2 inches with two strips of waxed paper, extending paper 3 inches above rim. Set aside.

Put Brazil nuts in a large mixing bowl. Finally crush graham crackers with a rolling pin; add to Brazil nuts with raisins, glazed fruit and maraschino cherries.

Soften gelatin in orange juice; place over boiling water and stir until gelatin is dissolved. Add sugar; stir until dissolved. Pour molasses into large bowl of electric mixture; add gelatin mixture, vanilla, orange rind and spices. Beat on highest speed of electric mixer 15 minutes. Add to Brazil nut - fruit mixture; blend thoroughly with spoon.

Turn into prepared pan, pressing with spoon. Fold waxed paper over cake, press down with hands. If desired, garnish with additional maraschino cherries and sliced Brazil nuts. Chill in refrigerator 6 to 8 hours. To store, wrap in aluminum foil and keep in refrigerator.

Yield: 4½ - pound fruitcake.

NOTE: If desired, bought marshmallows may be used in place of the homemade marshmallow mixture. Substitute 1 - pound bought marshmallows for the gelatin, sugar and molasses. Cut marshmallows with scissors; place in top of double boiler. Increase orange juice to ¾ cup. Add to marshmallows with vanilla, orange rind and spices. Place over boiling water, stirring occasionally, until marshmallows are melted. Continue as directed. If desired, light or dark corn syrup may be substituted for molasses.

Allees Leave In January, Go to Tokyo

By Myrtle Yarnell

CLARKSBURG:— Mrs. Myrtle Allee visited her son Frank Allee in Hartsdale, N. Y., and writes back home that he and his wife and baby will go to Tokyo, Japan, the first of the year to remain there for three years. They plan to spend Christmas in Missouri and will visit his sister Miss Jennie Allee, Los Angeles, Calif., before leaving for Japan.

Mrs. D. C. Yarnell spent Tuesday and Wednesday in Jefferson City with her daughter Mary Maxine and attended the program and open house celebration of the new employment security building on Wednesday. That evening she attended a bridal shower for Miss Mickey Kreiger.

Mr. and Mrs. B. Minster have as guests their nephew and niece Mr. and Mrs. Harry Minster, Ft. Worth, Texas.

Mr. and Mrs. Allie Brizendine spent Thursday in Moberly and were guests of their son Mr. and Mrs. Harry Brizendine.

Mrs. Henry Ferguson entertained her club, "The Ready and Willing Workers" Wednesday with 18 ladies present.

Mrs. Cora Birdsong is visiting her sister, Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Williams, Elton. Mr. Williams is very ill.

Mr. and Mrs. Jack Sullins, Kansas City, are visiting relatives here while on their vacation. They spent several days with Mr. and Mrs. Elza Sullins, Hartsville.

Mrs. Neva Stambaugh, who spent several days with her daughter Mrs. Dewey Yarnell Jr. and family, returned to her home in Wichita, Kan.

Joe Bealer is ill with the flu. Howard Bealer, St. Louis, spent last weekend with his parents.

Mrs. Susan Jobe spent Tuesday in Tipton with Mrs. Mary Robertson.

Mrs. Lettie Copas sold her farm to Mr. and Mrs. J. Warren Birdsong.

Mrs. Alpha Maxey, 94, is ill. Her granddaughter, Mrs. Nell Rogers, Kansas City, spent a few days here last week. Mrs. Maxey's daughter, Mrs. Ethel Rea, is visiting her now.

Larry and Lanna Donley visited their uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. Jimmy Denley and family last week.

Elmer Jones and Mildred Martin are visiting in Kansas City.

Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Streby, Sedalia, visited relatives here Friday afternoon.

Harold R. Smith and Richard Bruce, both stationed in Korea, opportunity of visiting together recently.

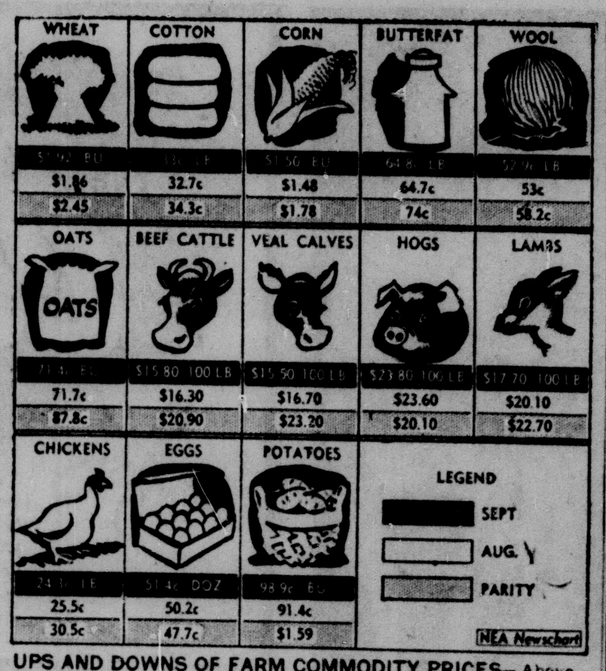

Jim Wilson, Kansas City, spent last weekend with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Wilson.

A window glass 24x30 inches was blown out of an upstairs window at the home of Robert Wingate and landed in the yard without breaking.

Pvt. Jerry Baker arrived here last Wednesday from Camp Gordon, Ga., and is visiting his wife, the former Wanda Winebrenner.

Paul Tompson, inducted into the Army last week, is receiving his basic training at Ft. Riley, Kan.

Chester Cobb has purchased one of the new houses in the southwest part of town from Mr. Altoff and plans to move in real soon.

UPS AND DOWNS OF FARM COMMODITY PRICES— Above Newschart shows average commodity prices farmers received for their crops and livestock during mid-September, compared with August prices. Department of Agriculture officials predict prices will remain "fairly stable" the rest of the year. They concede, however, that if there is any change it will be in the direction of lower prices. The current parity is 92 per cent, lowest since June 1941. When prices are at 100 per cent of parity, the farmer is said to be receiving prices which when balanced against his costs, give him the same purchasing power he had in the normal period of 1910-14.

DDT Provides New Word

RIO DE JANEIRO (AP) — A new verb has found its way into the Portugese language.

"Dedetizar — to spray with DDT, an insect killing compound."

The word is used in that manner in a recent report of the National Malaria Service.

Whip a quarter cup of cream and fold it into a cup of mayonnaise; top fruit salad with this fluffy dressing.

Compare New Detergent Oxydol with your present suds!

It Actually Beats the Sun for getting clothes white!

Here's why:

1 Oxydol has changed to a new detergent formula that's really different!

2 We added a remarkable new whitening ingredient—never before used in any leading suds!

Here's Proof — An Oxydol wash DRIED INDOORS is whiter than any wash DRIED OUTDOORS in sunshine!

Dozens of wash tests have proved it—that detergent Oxydol beats the sun for getting clothes white. For instance, we took towels and washed them in all the leading suds, and dried them outdoors in sunshine. But a towel washed in Oxydol and dried indoors—like the one shown—was noticeably whiter than the other towels. You can have gorgeous white washes too—with new detergent Oxydol. CORN KING—Douglas Weekley only weighs 80 pounds, but he was big enough to win the Missouri Farmers Association corn-yield contest. The 11-year-old boy, from Lamine, Mo., averaged 152.26 bushels per acre to win the contest over some 331 entrants—most of them with 15 to 20 years of experience. He did all the work except lifting the 80-pound fertilizer sacks and disking of land.

New Methods Aid Christmas Cooks

By CECILY BROWNSTONE
Associated Press Food Editor

A new kind of cooking is abroad in this land. We want to tell you about it before holiday-time, in case you have any influence with Santa. We're talking about the electric appliance in which you can roast on a spit or quick-broil and achieve the most delicious food in short order.

We've been trying this kind of cookery ourselves and we're all for it. We're enthusiastic, too, about the first book to be devoted to this device, the "Complete Cookbook for Infra - Red Broiler and Rotisserie" by Nedda Casson Anders (M. Barrows).

At lunch recently with Mrs. Anders, we told her we had tried her wonderful way of roasting chicken with pineapple and serving it with green rice. When we asked her how she happened on this idea, she said it was inspired by the Chinese food she had eaten, and by her interest in producing a different and delicious chicken dish. With her permission, we are giving you our adaption of her recipe.

Mrs. Anders started using a quick-broiler and rotisserie because she's a career - wife who wanted to feed her "semi-gourmet" husband well. She found that when she used the quick - broiling unit of the appliance for meat or fish and vegetables, she could start dinner with her hat on — when she came home from the office; by the time she had her hat off, the meal was done! As accompaniment to such a dinner, she often uses pre-cooked rice.

For dessert, Mrs. Anders says fruit grilled in the electric broiler offers color, texture, pattern, flavor — and a surprise element — that family and guests relish. A chapter in her book gives her favorite ways of preparing the fruit for garnishes as well as desserts.

If you already have one of these infra - red appliances, Mrs. Anders is most persuasive about their use at holiday time. (We agree that junior turkey, chicken, duck and roasts are superlative when they've been spit roasted under this electric heat.) Her eyes sparkle when she tells you about her experimenting, and her book reflects her vivacity and efficiency. She admits, however, that while she did the recipe-testing she never had to do the dishes. Her chemist - husband, pleased with the tasting, willingly undertook that job!

NEDDA CASSON ANDERS, author of "Complete Cookbook of Infra-Red Broiler and Rotisserie," cooks her chicken, pineapple and rice dinner inspired by Chinese food.

Chinese Pineapple Chicken With Green Rice

Ingredients: 1 whole chicken (2½ to 3 pounds ready to cook), 1 lemon (cut in quarters), 1 clove garlic (cut in half), 1 teaspoon salt, ¼ teaspoon pepper, 1-1-3 cups drained canned crushed pineapple, 2 tablespoons cornstarch, 1 tablespoon soy sauce, ½ teaspoon powdered ginger (optional), 2 tablespoons butter or margarine (melted), 1-1-3 cups packaged pre-cooked rice, 1½ cups water, ½ teaspoon salt, 2 tablespoons finely chopped chives (or use scallion tops or parsley), 2 tablespoons butter.

Method: Rub chicken inside and out with the cut lemon and garlic. Sprinkle with 1 teaspoon salt and pepper. Mix pineapple, cornstarch, soy sauce and ginger. Spoon mixture into body cavity of chicken; close body openings tightly, truss bird, and put on spit of electric rotisserie as directed by manufacturer. Brush chicken with 2 tablespoons melted butter and spit roast 50 to 60 minutes, or until done. Chicken will be done when drumsticks are tender. About 15 minutes before chicken is done, combine rice, water and ½ teaspoon salt in saucepan. Mix just until all rice is moistened. Bring quickly to a boil over high heat, uncovered, fluffing rice gently once or twice with a fork (do not stir). Cover and remove from heat. Let stand 10 minutes. Add chives and 2 tablespoons butter, mixing lightly with a fork. Serve with chicken. Makes 4 servings.

Republican Germany

After Kaiser Wilhelm abdicated as a climax to World War I, Germany was organized as a federal republic under the constitution adopted at Weimar in 1919. Friedrich Ebert was the first president of Germany.

Proctors Move To Their New Windsor Home

By Mrs. Verna Palmer

GREEN RIDGE — Mr. and Mrs. John Proctor, who have been residing on a farm on Highway 127, south of Green Ridge, moved their household goods to Windsor Thursday, where they have purchased residence property. Mr. and Mrs. A. M. Ransdell, Sedalia, will move to the farm vacated by the Proctors.

Mrs. Myrtle Boltz, Texarkana, Tex., is spending the Thanksgiving holidays visiting her son Mr. and Mrs. E. H. Boltz near Ionia.

Mr. and Mrs. H. E. Carter and grandsons Terry and Jimmy Carter were guests Thanksgiving day of their son Mr. and Mrs. Harold Carter and family at Olathe, Kan.

Thanksgiving dinner guests in the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Palmer, Green Ridge, were Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Stone and Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Edmondson of Windsor. Mrs. Palmer also celebrated her birthday, which occurred on Thanksgiving day this year.

Miss Ruth Pace spent Thanksgiving holidays in Green Ridge visiting his father Ira Pace. Mr. Pace's sister, Mrs. J. H. Woods, was a Thanksgiving dinner guest in the Pace home. Miss Pace will return to Joplin to resume her duties in the Joplin schools.

A can of condensed tomato soup combined with one of cream of mushroom adds up to something wonderful. Condensed celery and cream of chicken soups mix like old friends. Vegetable soup is so good mixed with split pea.

Sweet Springs GI Promoted In Germany

WITH THE SEVENTH ARMY IN GERMANY — Clarence F. Fricke, 22, son of Mrs. Hilda Fricke, Sweet Springs, was recently promoted to corporal while serving with the Seventh Army's 56th Medical Battalion in Crailsheim, Germany.

Units of the Seventh Army form a major part of the strong cordon of NATO defense forces stretching across western Europe.

Corporal Fricke, an ambulance driver in the battalion's 556th Medical Company, entered the Army in February, 1952 and arrived in Europe the following August. He completed basic training at Camp Pickett, Va.

Clothing For World's Needy

NEW YORK (AP) — Half a million garments take a lot of making. That is the number which have been made up new in 13 years and shipped from the sewing room of the Friends (Quaker) meeting House here.

The Quakers send the garments to devastated areas in 28 countries throughout the world. Hundreds of women from 11 denominations work with the Quakers. Much of the work is done in the sewing room which also acts as receiving and shipping center for outlying areas.

In addition to handling new garments, the center collects and ships thousands of tons of used garments. A number of manufacturers donate materials for the new garments or provide them at reduced prices.

Nearly 150,000 farms in the United States were electrified in the year ending June 30, 1953.

Russians Have Made Bermuda Conference An Important One

By Drew Pearson

WASHINGTON — As President Eisenhower meets with Prime Minister Churchill and Premier Laniel in Bermuda, diplomats privately agree that the Russians have neatly and skillfully shifted the emphasis of what the Big Three will talk about.

Instead of a meeting which Ike was attending only to please Winston Churchill, Bermuda now has some real problems to discuss. For the Kremlin has dealt a severe blow to the United European Army. Furthermore, diplomats agree that the Kremlin, which can be extremely stupid at times, this time scored a real victory.

For several weeks, the Russians have been saying "No, no, no," to all proposals to sit down at a foreign ministers conference to discuss Germany and Austria. They said "No" so convincingly and so repeatedly that western diplomats believed it. That's one reason we pushed the invitation so hard. We never thought it would be accepted. And the French, also believing them and figuring the Russians were really getting tough, started considering the United European Army in earnest.

Then suddenly, during the climax of the French debate, the Russians reversed themselves and said "Yes." They agreed to attend the four-power foreign ministers conference.

This means that the French will delay attempted ratification of the United European Army until after the four-power conference. It also means that the agenda for the conference won't be decided upon for a couple of months, and in the interim the plan to bring German troops into NATO is almost certain to get more and more bogged down in the quagmire of French politics.

For what many Frenchmen and quite a few Americans don't realize is that the No. 1 goal of Soviet Russia today is to keep German fighting men out of the western European army.

If the Kremlin can prevent French and German troops from marching shoulder-to-shoulder together; if they can make them continue their 90-year hostility, then they can still fan the fires of Franco-German power politics which have caused the last three wars of Europe.

Despite problems in Korea and despite politics and spy-hunting at home, this remains the most cancerous long-range source of war in the world.

The Big Three, meeting in Bermuda, will have to spend part of their time considering this—whether Churchill likes it or not.

Heretofore, Winston has given the United European Army only platonic lip service. But if he devoted his own great persuasive talents to this instead of conspiring to meet Malenkov in Moscow, he would make a great and perhaps enduring contribution to the peace of mankind.

Who Needs Prayer Most??

Though Secretary of the Treasury Humphrey has his share of cabinet headaches, he prays for another cabinet colleague who has even more. With a budget to balance, taxes to raise and a debt ceiling to keep under, Humphrey is in plenty of hot water. However, he confided to friends recently: "When I say my prayers at night, I thank God that I am not Ezra Taft Benson."

Washington Pipeline

Inside reason why John Foster Dulles finally took a stand against Senator Jenner in the Igor Gouzenko diplomatic dickering was because the Canadians told him there was no use arguing further, he was wasting his time. Mike Pearson, Canadian external minister and one of the best friends the United States has, is so sore at being pressured by Dulles that much of that friendship has been alienated.

Capital News Capsules

Dewey Disapproved — Capital gossip had it that Tom Dewey helped inspire Brownell's Chicago speech at which he opened up Pandora's box of Truman and Harry D. White spy charges. But Dewey has now let it be known he was unalterably opposed to unloosing the Red-hunters. . . . His old friend Brownell had been considered a good bet to become the next governor of New York. Now his chances are not so good. . . . Trouble is that Brownell started the drums of religious prejudice. For while he struck at Harry Truman, the man he hit was Henry Morgenthau.

Beware Churchill's Charm — John Foster Dulles has given Ike an intensive pep talk about not succumbing to Churchill's charm at Bermuda. Dulles even prepared a briefing resume, pointing out the dangers of yielding to Churchill's idea of going to Moscow to meet Malenkov. . . . It would build up the Russian premier, make the rest of the world think he really wanted peace, also make us appear to be kowtowing to Moscow. Despite the briefing, State Department diplomats fear Ike may give in to his old wartime friend, the prime minister.

Social Security Czar

As John W. Tramburg left Wisconsin to take over the all-important job of Federal Security Administrator, southern Wisconsin was up in arms at the manner in which he had taken a 2½-year old baby away from his foster mother.

A sound truck stirred up the people of Albany, Wis., over Tramburg's action, a march was organized on a local judge to get his order reversed, and 400 people signed a petition to keep the baby in its present home.

Technically, Tramburg was right. The child, an orphan, had been given to Mr. and Mrs. Vernon Tschudy by Tramburg's Department of Public Welfare for adoption. Then six months ago, Tschudy died, and Tramburg decided the child should be raised by a father as well as a mother. But in the interim, the child had been with Mrs. Tschudy for a year and a half, and when the court order was handed down, she fled with her foster son and hid for six days. Grief-stricken, she finally surrendered him and was taken to a hospital.

Wisconsinites say that welfare rules may be welfare rules, but that social welfare should be administered with warmth and sympathy. Rules should be flexible to fit individual circumstances.

That's why the new Social Security Administrator, who otherwise had a good track record, is being eyed in Washington with skepticism. Is he a cold, correct professional, or does he have the kindly, family doctor approach? That's the question some senators want to know.

See Stevenson Tough to Beat For Demo Nomination in '56

By Bruce Biossat

The first real gun in the 1956 presidential campaign has been fired by Gov. Gordon Persons of Alabama. He wants Adlai Stevenson of Illinois for the Democratic nominee again.

Stevenson, who was present when Persons made his public comment, did not indicate how he felt about it. But it would have been surprising if he had disclosed his hand at this early date.

The feeling among seasoned political observers is that the former Illinois governor can have the 1956 nomination if he wants it. His stature within his party seems undiminished. He has a tremendous personal following, and it appears to know no significant geographic bounds.

The notion that Stevenson, at the close of the 1952 campaign, was not wholly acceptable to his party's southern wing has evidently lost force. There is little doubt that Stevenson suffered in the South partly through his inevitable identity with former President Truman's policies. But Mr. Truman is now out of government and Stevenson is on his own.

Had southern opposition to Stevenson developed critically after his severe defeat by President Eisenhower, it probably would have been a big boost to the candidacy of a man like Senator Symington of Missouri. The one-time Secretary of the Air Force has come in for frequent mention this year on the ground that, as a border state product, he could unite the North and South.

But as things stand today, Stevenson has a commanding edge. Serious defections would have to occur either in the South or North to destroy this present advantage before 1956. And none seems to be in the making.

What Stevenson thinks about all this is something else. His friends indicate that he has no intention of deciding whether to run until he is on the threshold of the 1956 campaign. Too many events must intervene before then to permit easy decision now.

If the Republicans should enact a program in 1954 which would win them a stronger hold on Congress next fall, and if Mr. Eisenhower should keep his powerful hold on the American public, then Stevenson might well believe in 1956 that he would be sacrificing himself for nothing. It is not easy to block a second term for a popular President.

On the other hand, events ahead may convince him not only the Democrats have a strong chance of recapturing the White House, but that this country's well being demands a Democratic victory. In such a mood he might be ready to take on Mr. Eisenhower again—or anybody else.

The year 1956 is a long way off. Much can happen both in the world and in Stevenson's mind. But public statements like Governor Persons' cannot help but define more sharply the magnitude of the task facing anyone who would combat Stevenson in the next Democratic presidential sweepstakes.

Mamma Looks After Herself, But Papa's a Stubborn Cuss

By Ruth Millett

"Women are smarter than men," says a Philadelphia heart specialist who points out that the "weaker-sex myth" permits women to live a less exerting life and outlive men by an average of from six to seven years.

They're smarter than men on that score, all right. But the sad fact is that women don't want to outlive their men. They'd like to take as good care of their husbands as they take of themselves, but the men are stubborn about cooperating.

Mama knows, for instance, that Papa ought to lose some weight. But no matter how hard she tries to see to it that he is served sensible meals at home, she can't prevent his eating the wrong kind of lunch or raiding the ice box before bedtime.

Mama knows Papa isn't as young as he used to be and hasn't any business proving he is just as much of an athlete as he was 20 years ago, but Papa isn't going to admit he is too old for anything — not as long as he can fool himself.

She's "Nagging" If She Puts The Pressure On

Mama knows Papa ought to see his physician once a year for a complete check-up, but getting a well man to a doctor is no easy task and many a wife gives up in disgust.

Mama may worry that Papa is smoking too much or working too hard or staying up too late at night, but if she keeps after him to get him to change his ways, she's nagging.

Mama would like to plan for Papa's retirement soon enough to do him some good. But chances are Papa will go right on working until he drops in his tracks.

Mama's smarter than Papa when it comes to taking care of herself, but she isn't quite smart enough to sell Papa on the idea of taking care of himself. She tries, but Papa is a stubborn customer.

Nothing Succeeds Like Failure

We've had several striking lessons lately in an axiom that seems to be gaining strength almost by the day: If you would succeed, then first fail in a loud and noticeable manner. To illustrate:

A while back the government moved to deport singer Dick Haymes for illegal re-entry into the U.S., saying too that he'd used his Argentine citizenship to avoid the wartime draft. Since then his salary has doubled and he's booked tight for two years.

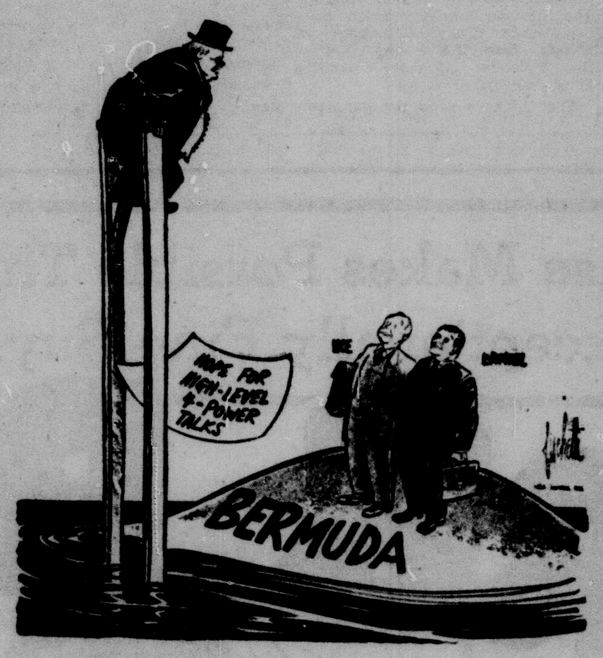

Then David Poleri, an opera tenor, stalked off a Chicago stage in the last act of "Carmen," refusing to stab the heroine as the script demanded. Now he's deluged with radio, TV, nightclub and recording offers.

Manners Make Friends—

It is necessary for you to leave a party early. Okay—just so you don't make a big to-do about it. You don't need to sneak out—but make your going inconspicuous.

Some thoughtless guests make their early leave-taking such a spotlighted exit that the other guests get the idea it is time for the party to break up.

'I Brought These Along---Just In Case'

The World Today—

Little New In Mac's Speech

By JAMES MARLOW

WASHINGTON (AP)—Nothing Sen. McCarthy has said or done in these first nine months of the Eisenhower administration inflamed it so much as his recent criticism.

But the Wisconsin Republican was using just a couple of new matches. It was an old one, relit, which made the administration jump the highest.

What was new in his nationwide broadcast a week ago can be stated briefly:

1. He declared himself an issue in the 1954 congressional elections. He told his audience to vote Republican if they approved of him, Democratic if they disapproved.

2. He contradicted President Eisenhower, who had said he hoped Communists - in - government wouldn't be an issue in those 1954 elections. McCarthy said it would be an issue.

But when in that same broadcast he undertook to tell the administration how to handle its foreign aid program, he wasn't saying anything new at all. That was his relit match.

Perhaps it was the way he said it—and the fact that he was talking over nationwide television and radio instead of in a statement from his office—which evoked retorts from Eisenhower and Secretary of State Dulles.

In a statement Sept. 23 McCarthy suggested the United States end all aid to Britain and America's other allies unless they stopped trading with Red China.

That was precisely what he said in his broadcast, and what he had been hammering away at for months.

In his broadcast he asked sarcastically if the Eisenhower administration was going to try to get the war prisoners freed by sending "perfumed notes."

He suggested this country force the Chinese to give up the prisoners by ending all trade with them by America's allies. He said the United States should shut off aid to the allies unless they ended trade with the Reds.

One of McCarthy's earliest collisions with the administration resulted from his announcement last March that members of his investigating staff negotiated with Greek ship owners to stop trade with the Communists in Asia.

In May McCarthy got into another one of his disputes with Dulles over allied ships which call at Red Chinese ports.

So what McCarthy said last week was what he has been saying, in one way or another, for months: stop the allies from trading with the Reds.

In May Dulles gave a reply which included a phrase that he was against urging "upon our friends and allies additional restrictions upon their trade with the Communists world even in terms of nonstrategic items."

This week, on Tuesday, Dulles said approximately the same thing: that this country does not have the right to dictate the allies' trade policies.

Although in his broadcast McCarthy was saying only what he had said before, this time Dulles considered it important enough to issue a prepared statement in rebuttal.

And Eisenhower at his news conference yesterday backed up Dulles with a prepared statement endorsing Dulles' reply to McCarthy.

Eisenhower's statement also took up the question of whether Reds-in-government would be an issue in 1954. Just as before, the President said he hoped it wouldn't. The issue, he said, should be whether his administration is doing a good job.

Democrat Pick-Ups

Odds and Ends By News Staff

"DIG THAT SOLID SCENERY" might have been the cry at Smith-Cotton High School a few nights ago.

Bob Morgan was in charge of decorations for the Archives Ball and his committee was going to whitewash some small trees. He promised to get the lime and the others were to be on hand with brushes and strong arms.

Came the appointed time and Bob showed up with the lime, the others with the brushes. They got a tree or two painted and decided to let the others wait for a time while they enjoyed a soft drink and a moment's rest.

Returning to the task some several ten-minute periods later, one of the painters reached for the brush in the white wash bucket and the whole affair—brush, paint and bucket—all were firmly attached together.

Bob had got hold of plaster of paris, instead of lime.

The modern day Tom Sawyer got his crew on a real white washing job the next night. This time he really had lime.—C.M.

A little boy in kindergarten called one of the pretty little girls "Cup Cake."

The little girl was flattered as girls little or big always are when boys call them sweet names and she tried to think of something nice to call him — something she liked very much. She came back with the thing she liked best and called him "Peanut Butter Sandwich."—H. L.

Looking Backward

THE ANGELS FELL

XXII

I DROVE seven miles beyond Raventon to a narrow, curving, empty road. Everybody knew where Willie Shad lived; it was the showplace of the country.

I saw nobody on the way, but when I reached the house I heard voices in the distance. I walked around to the rear of the house. At the foot of the knoll was the swimming pool, now empty, and a couple of tennis courts and a handball court. Two men were playing handball and a woman sat on a chair watching them.

At that distance I could recognize Willie Shad by his thick, hairy figure. The weather had turned cooler since morning, the sky was overcast, but all he wore were shorts and sneakers.

The woman, a fleshy blond, noticed me first and said something to him, and he stopped playing and peered at me. I'd been walking down to the court; I was close enough to see him simper. He took off his handball gloves. Rubbing his bare chest with a towel, he came toward me.

I put my hand on the gun in my jacket pocket. The gun was very big, filling the pocket, making it sag. I waited where I was as Willie Shad plodded up to me.

"I kind of thought you'd come," he said, stretching out a hand. "How you been?"

My palm sweated on the gun; my finger itched on the trigger.

"Where can we talk?" I said.

He pulled back his rejected hand and used it to scratch his chest. He wasn't offended. "Plenty of room in the house," he said.

I walked at his side, but not close to him. When we mounted the colored flagstone terrace he stopped.

"The briefcase in your car?"

"I haven't got it."

He simpered and resumed walking.

We entered the house through a glass door leading in from the terrace. The walls of that huge room were mostly windows from ceiling to floor except for the white-brick fireplace. Every bit of furniture was blond mahogany. The floor was sky-blue plastic tile.

I said to his back: "Where's my son?"

He took his time turning, and when I saw his face again there wasn't a trace of a simper on it.

I took the gun out of my pocket. "I told you I'd kill you if you touched him."

• • •

WILLIE SHAD tugged gently at the ends of the towel over his shoulders. "You're kidding."

"He disappeared from school this morning. You said you'd kidnap him and I said I'd kill you." I raised the muzzle higher, in line with his heart.

He took a frenzied step backward, thrust out a hand as if to block the bullet with it.

"Wait!" Clinging to the ends of that towel, he watched my eyes, knowing from experience that the eyes showed what a man with a gun intended to do. "How d'you know your kid's snatched?"

"He disappeared from his school this morning."

"In West Amber?"

"Downstate, in Westchester." I tilted the muzzle so that he had to look into it. "You know all that."

"What time?" Willie Shad said, and his voice was looser.

"What's the difference? About 10 this morning."

"Look, pal. That's a long way and I can prove I was in Raventon all morning."

"You wouldn't do your own dirty work."

He wiped his face with one end of the towel, no longer bothering to watch my eyes or the gun. He knew that the crisis had passed when I had taken the time to argue.

"Pal, you know what I figured when I seen you coming down to the court? I figured you was ready to sell me the briefcase. Say I snatched the kid. Do I walk up to you practically naked after that line you pulled Saturday in your house? Nobody never said Willie Shad is a dope."

He shook his head, disappointed in me, and now he was a lot more relaxed than I.

"Use your head, pal. If I snatched your kid, I'd get in touch with you right away and say: Let's swap the boy for the briefcase."

"You haven't got around to it yet."

"What am I waiting for? You're here. I can say: Okay, pony up the briefcase and you get the kid. He means more to you than the briefcase, and more to you than shooting me. But I don't say it. Because I don't know a thing about it."

• • •

ONCE, three years ago, I had been in a fieldstone and stucco house on the heights of Raventon. And under an elm tree in the garden I had kissed the daughter of the house.

I was back to call on her with a gun in my pocket.

The door was opened by Mrs. Rahn, sweet-faced and matronly. She didn't remember me, and when I said, "I'd like to see Hannah," she gave me the calculating look of a mother appraising a possible son-in-law.

"She won't be home today." Mrs. Rahn gave me a benign smile. "I don't think I know your name."

"Paul Flagg."

That killed her smile. Even if her husband and her daughter hadn't told her anything about the briefcase, my name meant plenty these days in the local press. She said quickly, "Wait here, please," and left me in the hall.

In a matter of seconds Congressman Horace Rahn came out.

Tangy Cranberries For Holidays

By CECILY BROWNSTONE
Associated Press Food Editor

What could be easier? Chop raw cranberries with a triple - bladed spring - action chopper, combine them with other fruits, and you have a wonderful relish to serve with holiday turkey, chicken, duck or ham.

This good raw cranberry relish has an extra advantage — it benefits from being made ahead of time. Put it into a covered container, in the refrigerator, so its flavors will blend and mellow. All the fuss out of the way at serving time, and you have such a delicious accompaniment to ladle into your prettiest dish.

Cranberry Pineapple Relish

Ingredients: One No. 2 can (1 pound and 4 ounces) crushed pineapple, 2 pounds fresh cranberries, ½ cup sugar.

Method: Drain pineapple and empty into refrigerator dish. Wash and pick over cranberries. Place cranberries on several thicknesses of waxed paper on wooden board. Rumple edges of waxed paper. Chop cranberries with triple-bladed spring - action chopper. Mix with pineapple and sugar. Taste and add more sugar if desired. Chill at least 8 hours.

If you would also like to serve a cooked cranberry sauce, here's one we know everyone will enjoy.

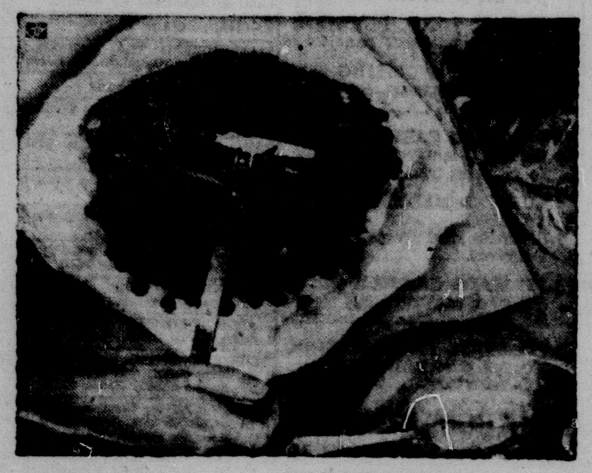

Cranberry Pineapple Sauce

Ingredients: 2 cups sugar, 1 cup water, 4 cups fresh cranberries, ¼ cup pineapple preserves, rind and juice of 2 lemons, 1 cup blanched almonds.

Method: Mix sugar and water in saucepan; stir over low heat until sugar dissolves; boil 5 minutes. Add cranberries; cook rapidly 5 minutes or until cranberry skins pop open. Stir in preserves, lemon rind and juice; chill. Just before serving, stir in almonds.

CRANBERRY RELISH gives pep to Chicken and Turkey.

SO EASY to chop cranberries when you have a triple - bladed spring action chopper to do it with.

Hal Boyle's Column—

Fans Have Been In Use Since 1400 B.C., Make Nice Yule Gift

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP)—Notes from the Oddity Almanac, designed to educate your baby sitter and put the kids to sleep:

Has your wife been badgering you to buy her an air-conditioning machine? . . . Why not surprise her with an old-fashioned hand-waved fan this Christmas? . . .

The fan has been a sign of exalted rank among women since the 14th Century B. C. in Egypt, when it was considered an emblem of happiness of repose . . . in ancient India the fan was a sacred symbol, in old Japan a symbol of eternity. . . .

Fans have accented the glamor of famous women from Cleopatra to Sally Rand . . . the first Queen Elizabeth had 31 fans at her death, including one set with precious jewels, presented her by Sir Francis Drake. . . .

The old-time hand fan won't prevent hay fever . . . but it has no electrical parts . . . and it is the only instrument on the market today, except the baby buggy, that will give modern woman both fresh air and exercise . . . a husband who really loves his wife will give her two fans—one for each hand. . . Any other Christmas gift problems? . . .

Industry-Marches-On Dept: It is said that the quill used by Thomas Jefferson to write the Declaration of Independence came from one of his own geese at Monticello. . . . America's goose quill pen tycoon today is Lewis Glaser of New Haven, Conn., and some 1,000 tourists a month buy his pens at President Jefferson's old home. . . . The quill was one of the first pens to write successfully above water. . . .

Almanac Health Hint: There are cases on record of children found to be allergic to cosmetics used by their mothers. . . . Don't let your son remain a juvenile delinquent, lady, if by changing your face powder you can get his little schoolmates to vote him "the boy most likely to succeed" . . .

Small Animals-With-Big-Problems Dept: Comedian Jack E. Leonard, who tips the beam at 350 pounds and says he wouldn't lose an ounce if he could, has been fretting recently because the veterinarian says his 3½-pound chihuahua, named Patjack, is overweight. . . . Do any Almanac readers know of any tested diets for slimming down a chihuahua?

How-To-Get-Ahead tips: Get rid of that unsightly mop of hair on your head, mister. . . . Don't just comb it over the years. . . . Borrow a match and burn it off now. . . . Baldness is on the march. . . . Yul Brynner, star of "The King and I," is so bald he doesn't dare bend over the table when playing a near-sighted opponent at billiards. . . . But he reports women fans write they regard his baldness as a badge of masulinity and a sign of virility. . . .

(Boyle's note: More and more women today seem to have this idea. I have a number of middle-aged friends who say the only reason they wear hats is to protect their bald head from strange girls who try to rush up and scribble their phone number on it with lipstick.)

(Editor's note: Why doesn't Boyle quit dreaming and go ahead and buy himself that toupee he needs? Maybe he could deduct it from his income tax as a business expense.)

Almanac Historical Scoop: What were the last words spoken by Gen. Custer at his famous last stand, the battle of the Little Big Horn? Our firm belief—and nobody can show we're wrong—is that Custer said:

"Je-e-e-ehoshaphat! Whoever saw that dsd-burned many Indians before?"

Almanac Long-Range Weather Forecast: Snow flurries in Alaska, followed before the first of the year by a rising tide of orange peels and discarded sunburn lotion bottles along the Florida coast.

LETTER FINDS HER—Nancy Denner of Alva, Okla., who received a letter from a lonely Belgian, Christian De Lannoy, addressed simply "to a girl of 17 called Nancy." They met on a fog-bound ferry in New York harbor on November 22, but he didn't know her last name. Nancy says she intends to write De Lannoy, who is in Montreal.

It's quite noticeable that mother-in-law jokes have gone out of fashion since getting married without any visible means of support has become common among young people, says Aunt Molly Harmsworth.

SCHOOL BEHIND A TRACTOR?—Although tractors are taken for granted in the U. S., they are somewhat of an innovation in many parts of the world. In Venezuela, where strenuous efforts are being made to increase food production, the National Agricultural Institute has founded a tractor farming school at Maracay where students learn mechanical farming techniques with aid of various types of equipment. Last year, Venezuela bought $19 million worth of farming equipment from the United States

Former Japanese Prisoner of Reds Tells About Life In Siberia Camp

Editors Note—Shinobu Higashi, former correspondent for the Japanese in Manchuria, was captured by the Russians in 1945 and was held a prisoner for more than three years. Now a member of the Associated Press staff in Tokyo, Higashi was sent to Maizuru to cover the return of 811 Japanese war prisoners. There he met a bunkmate from his captive days, "Ivan Ivanovitch" Nishio. Nishio got nickname because he was well versed in the Russian language. Here for the first time a Japanese war prisoner tells what it was like in a Siberian slave camp.

By SHINOBU HIGASHI

MAIZURU, Japan (AP) — I was shocked when I saw "Ivan Ivanovitch" Nishio. He had come home at last—one of 811 prisoners of war and civilians released from eight harrowing years of captivity in Siberia.

We had parted five years ago in a desolate prison camp in central Asia. I came home to freedom. He was kept behind.

Five long years of hardship were etched deeply into every feature of his once handsome face. His eyes were sunken. His face was lined from the raw cold of the Siberian winter. His jaws were set in a mold of premature old age.

Five years ago we slept side by side on a thin straw mattress in our prison bunks. Five years ago we ate the same tasteless millet mush and the same sour prison soup from a single kettle set between us.

Now he had returned.

"In May 1949, they finally got me," he said. "I was tried and sentenced to 25 years imprisonment.

"They sent me to a prison camp near Taishet. That's the junction of the new Baikal-Amur Railway at its western end with the Trans-Siberian line.

"This was a camp for political prisoners. Our old camp in central Asia was paradise compared to it. It was one of hundreds, set at 5 to 10 kilometers (about 3 to 6 miles) distance along the Baikal-Amur Railway. Many of these were occupied by Russian political prisoners and German war criminals.

"Our work was logging. In the summer the gnats were so thick you couldn't see a foot ahead. When we ate lunch our soup would be black with dead gnats floating on the surface in a few minutes. At first we used to pick out the insects but it was hopeless. And besides we were losing too much of the precious soup. We soon were drinking soup and gnats together.

"The insects could bite too. We wore nets while we worked, but if there was a small tear in the netting the gnats would get in and a man's face would change shape completely in a matter of minutes, from the bites.

"In the winter it was utterly cold. That part of Russia is the coldest place in the world. Almost every day we worked in weather 45 to 50 degrees below zero centigrade (down to 58 below Fahrenheit).

"Many of us died.

"Our food was unmilled rye, cold dried herring, tough as leather, and dehydrated carrots. We were forever hungry. When we got to work we peeled off the bark of pine trees and ate the inside lining. It was sweet and tasted wonderful. We also ate lichens.

"The guards were brutal. They kicked and abused us.

"We could not talk, smoke, fall out of step, pick up anything from the ground or change ranks in our march to work—over difficult corduroy roads for distances of five to six miles.

"There was no medicine, no doctors. Once you got sick you were as good as dead. You had to go to work just the same."

Ivan Ivanovitch looked at me and smiled wanly: "You sure were lucky to get back when you did."
